North Platte, Omaha Girls Nominated For 'State' Governor

By BARBARA HEMPHILL
Star Staff Writer

Nancy Copeland of North Platte and Patricia Kaspar of Omaha will vie for governor of Girls State in the general election Thursday.

The 254 Girls Staters spent most of the afternoon Wednesday holding party meetings, campaigning and balloting for primary candidates.

Miss Copeland, who heads the Federalist slate, has an Omaha for a running mate. She is Jane Russell, candidate for lieutenant governor.

The Nationalists also seem to have honored geographical considerations. With an Omaha girl their candidate for governor, they chose Charlene Anthony of Sidney as her running mate.

On the non-political state ticket, Mary Jo Andrews of Blair and Vee Arnold of North Platte are running for chief justice.

Blue River Rising Near Flood Stage

Crest Expected Before Overflow; Roads, Farmlands Still Inundated

BEATRICE, Neb. — The Blue River was still rising Wednesday night at Beatrice and had reached a height of 13.06 feet at Beatrice.

It was believed the crest would be reached before the turbulent river reached the 16-foot flood stage.

Observers at Beatrice thought that the water level on Indian Creek, which empties into the Blue here, would be on the downgrade before water from Crete and Turkey Creek reached here.

At Holmesville dam the Blue River carried even more water than it did at Beatrice after bankfull Cedar and Bear creeks emptied into it. It measured 17 feet Wednesday and flood stage is about 20 feet.

Roads Inundated

Many rural roads in the Holmesville, Wymore area were still under water at places Wednesday night but the situation was reported improving.

Most serious damage in the area as the result of the storm was to Union Pacific right-of-way near Blue Springs where a flash flood put about a half-mile of track under water.

At Wymore, where water covered U.S. Highway 77, five persons escaped drowning or injury when a car driven by Isaac McCown of Wymore ran off the road into the water. McCown and four passengers managed to crawl out through the top of the car door, which was above water. The driver said he was blinded by wind and rain.

Crop Damage

Most important damage as a result of the downpour was to the corn crop. Considerable corn in Gage County remains to be planted and some that was planted was washed out.

Wheat fields showed lodging but it was thought it would straighten up by harvest time. About 300 acres of farmland was still under water Wednesday in the Holmesville area.

Farther south, at Marysville, Kan., where the water supply is taken from the Blue River, the Marysville water plant reported a six-times as strong as normal silt. It was reported that the purification filters were clogging.

U.S. Weather Observer E. E. Runyon reported the Blue River at Marysville had risen from 27.05 feet to 33.51 Wednesday evening. Flood stage is 35 to 38 feet. A 35 foot crest was forecast.

Four inches of rain fell at Wymore and Crete received 3.08. Over two inches of rain was reported at a number of points in the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. area.

Grand Island received an inch of rain with hail.

Laniel's Ouster At Stake

Premier Decides On Confidence Vote

PARIS, (Thursday) (AP) — French Premier Joseph Laniel early today challenged the National Assembly to approve his cabinet's Indo-China policies or throw him out of office.

In a dramatic overnight session, he asked the deputies for a vote of confidence for the third time on the same embarrassing question of Indo-China.

Laniel survived the last confidence test on May 13 by the scant margin of two votes. Some of his support seems to have melted away since then and there were doubts that he could squeeze through again.

The vote is scheduled for Saturday morning and before then Laniel hoped he could scrape up enough support or convince enough deputies to abstain to give him another reprieve on Indo-China.

Policies Attacked.

It was generally agreed that the cabinet will fall as soon as the current Geneva conference on Indo-China is over; many deputies may be hesitant about provoking a government upset while the Geneva negotiations are still in progress.

In the all-night session, however, deputies on all sides attacked the Laniel government's policies.

The confidence vote will be on the question of refusing priority to three other resolutions which are sharply critical of the government.

Orators in all sections of the assembly have accused the Laniel cabinet and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault in particular of not working hard enough for an Indo-China peace at Geneva.

Laniel's decision to ask for a formal vote of confidence, in which defeat would force his resignation, came after the assembly turned down by a vote of 324 to 269 consideration of a government-backed resolution on the Indo-China question.

Thus rebuffed, Laniel immediately asked for suspension of the session. He and his ministers went directly into a full-scale cabinet meeting at Elysee Palace to formalize the request for a vote of confidence.

It will be the third time within a month that Laniel has asked for a vote of confidence.

Observers had little optimism the Laniel government could weather this vote.

Boys State Legislative Job To Lincolnite

Mike Levy of Lincoln was elected speaker of the Cornhusker Boys State Legislature Wednesday during an organizational session.

Keith Johnson of Table Rock served as voluntary clerk of the newly-organized legislature. The newly-elected lieutenant governor, George Kessels of Norfolk, presided at the session.

Sen. Robert McNamara of Lincoln addressed the youths on the workings of the Legislature. Clerk of the Nebraska Legislature, Hugo Srb, assisted in the procedures.

Dr. W. H. Morton of Lincoln lectured to the group on "schools and school administration." State officers and their duties were discussed by State Supt. of Public Instruction F. B. Decker and Franz C. Radke.

Richard Hart, a graduate student at the University of Nebraska, described his experiences as a secretary to Generals Mark Clark and William K. Harrison during the Peace negotiations at Panmunjom, Korea.

who said he made the move as an "interested Democratic voter." Farrell said Holloway had been running on the Republican ticket in the past and "it looked to me like he should again run as a Republican."

When informed of the objection, Holloway was completely taken by surprise. He said "Hummph, but I am a Democrat."

The former sheriff, who was defeated by the present sheriff, Merle Karnopp, Holloway's former deputy, in 1950, said he had changed back from Republican to Democrat in the general election in 1952. He reported, however, that he did vote as a Republican in the 1952 primary election.

According to the objection filed by Farrell, Holloway did

Welch Ignores McCarthy Explanation

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) points to a map headed, "Communist Organization of the U.S.A., Feb. 9, 1950" during testimony Wednesday but gets no attention from Special

Army Counsel Joseph Welch (left). A short time earlier, they clashed bitterly during the McCarthy-Army hearing. According to the Associated Press in Washington, the shading on the map—emphasizing Nebraska in the photo—has no significance. The coloring was merely used to show boundaries between different districts. (AP Wirephoto)

'Selective' Salary Hike Is Planned

... At Institutions

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

"There will be selective increases in salary classifications from the top to the bottom in all state institutions to be effective July 1," Gov. Robert Crosby said Wednesday following a conference with the board of control.

The governor said the increases were necessary if the state is to maintain an "adequate level of service."

Chairman W. H. Diers of the board of control explained that the board long has had a custom of reviewing wage classifications in June to become effective at the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1.

"At our conference with the governor we discussed the suggestions in regard to salaries made by superintendents of mental hospitals at our annual meeting with them for this purpose," Diers said.

"We are now in the process of reviewing not only salaries paid at the mental hospitals but in all state institutions. It is a slow and difficult job in order to avoid conflicts and inequalities."

The board chairman explained that equally qualified nurses or nurses aids in the orthopedic and tubercular hospitals could not be discriminated against as compared with similarly qualified employees in mental hospitals.

Further complicating the problem of the board, Diers said, is the salary range within a classification for merit increases due to experience and training. One change he said can make changes necessary throughout the classification.

He cited as an example that nurse aid salaries now range from $150 to $190 per month and the superintendents have recommended an increase in the starting salary to $170 and a top of $200.

Thus, he pointed out, if the recommendation were adopted without adjustments, beginners would be getting the same salary as those who through training and experience have advanced from the beginners wage to the $160 and $170 brackets.

The board faces a similar adjustment problem in all of the various classifications set up under the merit system including the various types of professional workers.

"There is no justification for blanket increases which would be comparatively simple," Gov. Crosby said. "Living costs have not increased to warrant a blanket increase. We just must make increases where they are needed to keep personnel to provide adequate service for state wards."

U.S., Reds Exchange Peace Bar Charges

No Sign Of Peace Shown By Russ, Retorts Smith

U.S. Faces Rhee Fight Plan If Talks Fail

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Red China accused each other Wednesday of blocking the road to peace in Indo-China.

"There is still no basic change in the policy of the United States government which is designed to extend the war in Indo-China and to prevent the Geneva conference from reaching agreement," Red China's Foreign Minister Chou En-lai told the nine-party meeting.

U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith retorted: "The Soviet, the Chinese Communist and the Vietnamese delegations have so far shown no signs of willingness to resolve these issues on any reasonable basis which could be acceptable to this conference or which would insure the return of peace to Indo-China."

Smith was referring to three issues: The status of the Laos and Cambodia kingdoms in any settlement for Indo-China; the scope and powers of the international supervisory commission for Viet Nam—the largest Indo-China state—and the composition of the commission.

No Progress

The uncompromising exchange between Smith and Chou, who so far have not spoken to each other directly, came at the 18th session of the Indo-China conference. The four-hour session generally was written off by the West as being "without progress."

A British spokesman said his delegation shared the "feeling of frustration and disappointment expressed by Mr. Smith." The Chinese delegate, he said, spoke of "conference obstacles." The effect of his speech was to make the obstacles even higher than before.

Smith answered Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's speech of Tuesday and Chou's of Wednesday in one short statement. The charges of "aggressive designs and imperialistic intentions" on the part of the United States, he said, made by both Communist diplomats, were "part of a familiar pattern."

Regimented Audience

"I am quite sure," Smith added, "that Mr. Molotov and probably Mr. Chou En-lai do not actually believe that they will be taken seriously except those countries behind the Iron curtain."

Molotov was not speaking to the Geneva conference, but to "the regimented audience in Europe and Asia which accepts the Cominform line," Smith said.

The action was based on a law passed in 1953 by the state Legislature which provided the 90-day notice for changing party affiliation if a person is going to file for an office.

The only proviso in the law is that when a person lives in an area requiring registration as a prerequisite to voting, his changing of registration prior to the most recent election, if it's 90 days prior to his filing for office, is considered to be in compliance with the law.

The law, in effect, refers to all people living in areas where, like Holloway, a constant registration is not in effect or needed.

Election Commissioner Harold Gillett said the Commission, composed of himself and Attorney B. E. Boyles, would meet June 21 to consider the objection. Holloway, Gillett said, is being notified of the objection by mail.

First Objection

The commissioner said the objection Wednesday was the first ever received since the office was set up in 1948.

Probe Hits High Point Of Drama

Army Counsel's Stinging Denunciation Of Senator Gets Round Applause

McCarthy Begins Sworn Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — The McCarthy-Army hearings reached their high point of drama Wednesday, with Army Counsel Joseph N. Welch accusing Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) of recklessness, cruelty and lack of decency—and with McCarthy then taking the stand and beginning his main round of sworn testimony.

Many spectators in the jam-packed, steaming hot hearing room broke into loud, unchecked applause after Welch denounced McCarthy for referring to a young legal associate of Welch as a man with "a Communist front record."

"If there is a God in heaven," Welch told the Wisconsin senator, "it will do neither you nor your cause any good."

Welch then abruptly ended his cross-examination of McCarthy Counsel Roy Cohn, and went outside to a hallway, where he broke down and wept.

Calls Welch "Phony"

McCarthy drew the denunciation for charging that Welch tried to "foist" on the investigations subcommittee a lawyer who once belonged to the National Lawyers Guild.

McCarthy—presumably did not know at the time of this past affiliation of the lawyer, Frederick G. Fisher.

On the aftermath of this clash, McCarthy took over the witness chair from Cohn. But he quickly left it and went to a big colored map and chart where he delivered an introductory lecture on Communism—winding up with an implied attack on the foreign trade policy of the Eisenhower and Truman administrations.

He did not mention Eisenhower and he said this was "not a Democratic nor a Republican matter."

But he called for the election in November of a Congress that will stop "sending American money to nations which ship the sinews of war" to Communist China while hundreds of American service men are "being brain-washed in Communist blood-stained dungeons."

Challenge Repeated

This is the same "blood trade" issue on which he has challenged Eisenhower before. The Administration takes the position that the United States in its own interest should aid other free nations even when those nations engaged in limited trade with the Red bloc.

The climatic encounter between Welch and McCarthy came after the Boston lawyer—using irony as his weapon—tried to show Cohn "sat on" evidence of alleged subversion in the Army instead of taking it to Sec. Stevens and saying:

"Sit 'em, Stevens."

McCarthy flushed under recurrent bursts of laughter from spectators at this line of questioning, and later struck out at Welch.

He declared the elderly Army counsel originally brought to Washington as one of his aids a young lawyer associated with his firm, Frederick Fisher, who was a member of the National Lawyers Guild after that organization was listed as subversive by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

"I don't think," McCarthy said, "you can find any place, anywhere, an organization which has done more to defend Communists... to defend espionage agents, and to aid the Communist cause, than the man whom you originally wanted down here at your right hand."

Welch Pales

Welch paled and seemed to have difficulty in speaking.

"Until this moment, Senator," he said, "I think I never really gauged your cruelty or your recklessness."

He went on to describe Fisher as a brilliant young man—a member of the Young Republican League in Newton, Mass. And he said he regretfully sent Fisher back to Boston when the young man told him he was a member of the Lawyers' Guild while he was in law schools, and for some months afterward.

"Little did I dream," Welch said, "that I would be so cruel as to do an injury to that lad... I fear he shall always bear a scar needlessly inflicted by you. If it were in my power to forgive you for your recklessness, I would do so. I like to think I am a gentleman, but your forgiveness will have to come from someone other than me."

McCarthy Comments

McCarthy's comment to the press: "Too many people want to dish it out but they can't take it."

Reached at his Newton, Mass., home, Fisher declined comment. Fisher has said he once belonged to the Lawyers Guild but that he was not then, or ever, a member of the communist party.

McCarthy wielded and frequently rapped with a schoolroom-type pointer as, with the big varicolored map as a jumping off point, he launched into his discussion of Communist activities in this country and elsewhere.

The map he used was intended to show the organization of the Communist Party in the United States as of Feb. 9, 1950.

Newton Men Back Fisher

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Chairman John B. Stetson of the Newton Republican City Committee said Wednesday night his group "has complete confidence in" Atty. Frederick G. Fisher Jr., whom Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) described in the McCarthy-Army hearings as having "a Communist front record."

Fisher, 32-year-old junior partner in the Boston law firm of Hale and Dorr, of which Army counsel Joseph N. Welch is a member, is also a member of the Newton Republican City Committee.

Stetson made public a telegram sent to Sen. Mundt (R-SD), chairman of the Senate Investigations Sub-Committee, expressing confidence in Fisher.

Fisher has been connected with the Hale & Dorr firm since his graduation from Harvard Law School in 1949. Prior to that he was graduated M.A. from Bowdoin College in 1941.

Between Bowdoin and Harvard he enlisted in the Army Signal Corps and saw duty in the South Pacific during World War II. Later, he attended officers' candidate school and was discharged a first lieutenant in 1946.

Fisher is married to the former Talia Benz of North Haledon, N. J. They have two children, Frederick G. III, 7, and Genevieve, 4. Mrs. Fisher describes her husband as a "general law practitioner."

California Demos Name Full Party Slate First Time In 40 Years

Roosevelt Winner By 5-1 Margin

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Democrats made the only clean sweeps in California in the collapse of the state's cross-filing system, nearly complete returns from Tuesday's primary showed Wednesday night.

And a Democrat ran up the biggest overall vote.

This is a reversal of a 40-year-old pattern of Republican domination of California primaries.

The Democratic sweep of its own ticket was made by a group of political unknowns and two nationally known figures who ran over the protest of Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell.

Mitchell said his attitude was unchanged toward the congressional candidacies of James Roosevelt, whose wife accused him of adultery, and Rep. Robert L. Condon, who had been denied admission to an atomic test as a security risk. Each decisively won his own party candidacy but lost the Republican nomination.

Roosevelt, son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, credited his victory partially to the new state law which requires identification of each candidate's party affiliation on the ballot.

So did the Democratic candidate for governor, Richard Graves, who six months ago was a political unknown and a Republican.

Heretofore more widely known Republican candidates, cross-filing on both tickets, have swept most state offices in the primary and thus won election.

The only statewide candidate to do that in Tuesday's primary was a Democrat, Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown. He beat former Atty. Gen. Fred N. Howser on both tickets.

No Republican had a chance of winning both party nominations for any general state office or for any congressional seat.

Party identification worked in reverse, too. Democratic incumbents, including Rep. George P. Miller, who has been unopposed in the general elections for 16 years, will face Republican opposition in November.

Republican candidates still rolled up the heaviest overall vote in this state, where Democratic voters outnumber Republicans nearly three to two.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight noted that in the total vote he was running two to one over Graves.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) also piled up a big combined lead, but lost the Democratic nomination to Rep. Samuel W. Yorty, Los Angeles Democrat.

All 28 California congressmen—18 Republicans and 10 Democrats—won their party nominations. But only three appeared to have a chance of winning both party nominations. Fourteen eliminated all major opposition in the primaries two years ago.

Easy Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP)—James Roosevelt, triumphing over marital scandal and opposition from his party's national chairman, won decisively the Democratic nomination for Congress in California's 26th District.

Roosevelt is running better than five to one ahead of his closest rival in California's 26th District.

News Around The Globe

Yacht Missing

HONG KONG (INS)—Royal Navy headquarters at Hong Kong announced that the 70-ton yacht Elinor with a party of British sailors aboard has not returned from a cruise started June 1 near the Chinese Communist mainland.

Units of the Sixth Air-Sea Rescue Force began searching for the yacht. Reliable sources said the yachting party consisted of eight sailors from the destroyer Concord.

'No Raid' Agreed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL and CIO culminated more than a year of negotiations by ratifying a "no raiding" agreement binding 94 unions in the two federations to a labor peace pact.

The pact is regarded as the first step toward a possible AFL-CIO merger. It pledges the subscribing unions to refrain from "raiding" or seizing members already organized into a rival federation.

Ike To Address U.S. On Legislative Program Tonight

WASHINGTON (INS)—The White House announced that President Eisenhower will make a half-hour radio-television speech Thursday night on his legislative program.

The address will be delivered at the opening session of a meeting in Washington of the district chairmen of the national Citizens-For-Eisenhower congressional committee.

Mr. Eisenhower said last week he was through talking about the McCarthy-Army controversy and planned to devote his attention exclusively to boosting the administration's program.

White House news secretary James C. Hagerty said the speech will be delivered from 7 to 7:30 p.m. CST.

The address will be carried "live" by some networks and recorded for broadcast later by others.

Talks To Resume

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Red China are expected to resume direct talks Thursday on the release of Americans detained by the Peking regime.

Informed quarters said arrangements for the meeting were being made by the British.

Tax Bill Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee finished work on the administration's bulky tax revision bill, approving it almost exactly in the form asked by President Eisenhower.

Democratic members did not offer their proposal for a big cut in income taxes by raising personal exemptions, but said they probably would do so in the floor debate.

Suspects Nabbed

HILLSBORO, Ia. (AP)—Two men robbed the Hillsboro Savings Bank of about $1,800 in counter cash Wednesday, and a short time later two suspects were captured at a road block near Burlington.

Burlington police identified the two as Billy Joe Gilmore, 23, and Richard Monroe Gilmore, 21, brothers of Whitt, Tex.

'Ride' Theory Enters Omaha Death Probe

OMAHA (AP)—The theory that John Peter Mogensen, 60, Omaha, might have been "taken for a ride" shortly before he was struck by a passing motorist near Council Bluffs early Sunday has been injected into the investigation of his death.

A close friend of Mogensen's said he was a friend of Eddie McDermott, an Omaha gambler shot to death in a downtown Omaha garage April 19, 1953.

Mogensen was identified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation Tuesday.

Mrs. Howard Hermes advanced the "ride" theory. Mogensen had lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hermes for the last 18 years.

'No Hitchhiker'

Mrs. Hermes said she had never known Mogensen to hitchhike anywhere. "He was heavy and had varicose veins and always avoided a walk of any great distance," she said.

Mogensen was walking along the highway two miles east of the South Omaha bridge when he was hit by a car driven by John Harshberger, 20, of Malvern, Iowa. Harshberger notified Pottawattamie County officials at once. Two unidentified youths who were present when he reported said they had passed Mogensen earlier and he had jumped onto the highway waving at them but they did not stop.

Deputy sheriffs who checked the body said they found no wallet and no wrist watch.

Wrist Watch
Mrs. Hermes said Mogensen usually carried a "good sized roll" of cash and wore a wrist watch. She theorized he might have been picked up by persons who robbed him and left him beside the highway.

Girl, 10, Suffers Cut; Six Stitches Necessary

Ten-year-old Carol Jean Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walther H. Russell, 7300 Webster, required six stitches for a cut she received while in the back yard of her home. The cut was caused by a piece of broken glass.

The girl was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment after being given first aid by the Fire Department Rescue Squad.

'Midwest Marine Company' Will Be Recruited In Area

Formation of the "Midwest Marine Company," to be composed of Marines from Nebraska, South Dakota, western Iowa and western Minnesota, has been announced by the United States Marine Corps Recruiting Service located in the Post Office Building.

The unit will number approximately 250 men who will be enlisted during June and July, but who will not be ordered to active duty until July 30 at Omaha.

MSgt. Roger Lohsen, non-commissioned officer in charge of the Lincoln office, said the unit will leave Omaha as a group for the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif., where the men will undergo boot training together.

Lohsen pointed out that this plan for group enlistment and training was devised for several reasons, among them: groups of friends can enlist, train and return home on boot leave together; high school graduates may enlist now and spend a great portion of their vacation at home before departing for service; and men who enlist now can start earning credit toward their eight-year obligated military service while remaining at home until July 30.

Grandsinger Statement Is Admitted

VALENTINE, Neb. (AP)—District Judge E. L. Meyer of Alliance, ruled Wednesday that a statement signed by Loyd Grandsinger after he was captured following the slaying of State Safety Patrolman Marvin Hansen last April 9 may be admitted as evidence.

Grandsinger, 22, is charged with first degree murder. Most of Tuesday and part of Wednesday was devoted to testimony given by officers, official stenographers and newspapermen on the statement. During that time the jury was dismissed.

Grandsinger also was called while the jury was out and he contended the statement he signed was obtained by duress and that when he was taken to the scene of the shooting for a "re-enactment" he had been threatened with physical violence.

The signed statement has not yet been read to the jury.

After the jury was called back Wednesday, Court Reporter Ted McElhane of O'Neill, read a transcript of questions put to Grandsinger in the "re-enactment" and the answers of the accused. Grandsinger was not asked to sign this statement.

Pleas Deferred

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court decided to defer the time for hearing further arguments in the public school racial segregation cases.

First plans called for a one-day argument session next Oct. 12, but the court decided to cancel this arrangement. Instead, it will set a later argument date sometime after the court reconvenes Oct. 4 to begin its new fall term.

17 On Lost Navy Plane

TOKYO, (Thursday) (AP)—A U.S. Navy amphibian plane with 17 aboard vanished in bad weather off southern Japan on a flight to Hong Kong.

Air Force and Navy planes and Japanese and U.S. ships searched the area of the Pacific between Japan and Okinawa without success. They were resuming the hunt at daybreak today.

Rough seas and bad weather raised fears for the safety of the 15 Navy officers and enlisted men and two Marine officers aboard.

The plane, a twin-engine PBM, took off from Iwakuni Air Base at 5:30 a.m. yesterday. It sent its last radio message an hour and 25 minutes later.

(A Navy announcement listed no Nebraskans among the missing.)

DELAY SOUGHT IN ROY COHN'S TRAINING CALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Subcommittee investigating the McCarthy-Army dispute decided Wednesday to ask a delay for Roy M. Cohn in reporting for training duty with the New York National Guard.

The seven senators asked committee Counsel Ray H. Jenkins to make the formal request to the Army.

Cohn is scheduled to report for two weeks' active duty next Monday.

Special Army Counsel Joseph Welch had said the absence of Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy subcommittee and a principal in the dispute, would make it difficult if not impossible to continue the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Sen. McCarthy told a newsman earlier Wednesday he would demand that the hearings themselves recess for two weeks while Cohn takes his guard training.

15 Killed In Bogota Clash

BOGOTA, Colombia (INS)—Fifteen civilians and two soldiers were reported killed Wednesday in clashes between Colombian troops and student demonstrators. Bogota was placed under virtual martial law.

There was no official confirmation of the death toll.

Tanks, troops and police patrolled the main streets of the capital Wednesday night to prevent outbreaks.

Students guarded the bodies of their fallen associates killed in the demonstrations and then covered by Colombian national flags.

Two Injured In North Bend Crash

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—Two motorists were hospitalized here Wednesday with injuries received in a two car collision two miles north of North Bend, Neb., on Highway 79.

Richard Powers of North Bend was reported in "serious" condition by hospital attendants, while Lee Gerken, 22, Scribner, Neb., was listed as "fairly good."

Bond's 1230 "O" Street OPEN THURSDAY EVENING

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats in both branches of Congress Wednesday criticized the Eisenhower administration's handling of the Southeast Asia crisis.

Asserting that the administration is split on the issue, Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said one faction constitutes "a genuine war party" willing to "go it alone in Indo-China."

"Twice within recent weeks," Kefauver said in a Senate speech, "the United States has been a hair's breadth of openly intervening in the Indo-China War."

"We seem to have been saved from open hostilities only by the reluctance of the British to join us."

'Serious Mistake'

In the House, Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, the Democratic whip, said the administration is making "a serious mistake" by excluding Asian nations from the current military talks here on the Indo-Chinese crisis.

Confining the talks to representatives of France, Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand, McCormack said, "only serves to alienate our Asian brothers."

The Democratic leader urged that the Philippines and Thailand be invited at once to send representatives to join the conference.

"Something affirmative must be done to win Asians to our side," he told the House.

Sen. Butler (R-Neb.) joined the debate to express confidence that if this country is in danger of being directly involved in hostilities in Indo-China or elsewhere President Eisenhower will tell Congress and the nation about it.

Butler 'Disturbed'

Butler said he has "been disturbed" by news reports and statements of some other senators that this country had been near direct intervention in Indo-China.

He said one of "my good friends" had said that the nation was "within 48 hours of participating" in the conflict in Southeast Asia. Butler did not identify this senator.

Kefauver said that although a war party exists within the administration, so far it "has been sufficiently restrained, through fear of the reaction of Congress to their plans and purposes, to listen to wiser heads who insist that we have no business attempting to go it alone."

The senator said he was reassured by Secretary of State Dulles' most recent statement that the United States has no intention of dealing with the Indo-China problem by itself, but Kefauver added that national policy is still unclear.

Dulles told a news conference Tuesday that the government would not deal with the problem single-handedly unless the Chinese Communists launch new aggression.

Practical Politics

Reaction to the administration's call for a united front of allied nations in the Far East, the secretary said, has not reached the point of general acceptance that would make an appeal to Congress a matter of practical politics.

Kefauver said the United States must have the support of Britain, France, New Zealand and Australia on any decision to intervene.

Hearing For Inmate Soon

Joseph E. DeYonghe Jr., 21-year-old penitentiary inmate, is expected to undergo a mental hearing shortly before the Lancaster County Mental Board of Health.

Chairman of the Board Clarence Clark said the hearing had been delayed to give DeYonghe and his family opportunity to secure private counsel. Court-appointed counsel will be named if the family fails to secure private counsel.

Warden Herbert Hann said DeYonghe presently is being held in segregation in the penitentiary. He is charged with the first degree murder of Penitentiary Guard John Claussen in the paint shop where Claussen was superintendent.

The Oakies And The Elmers

The makings of a first-class editorial feud are a-brewin' across the state. Lined up so far are Kearney and Norfolk on one side of the mountain, with York peering over the ridge and drawing a fancy bead. The whole controversy centers around the erstwhile qualities of the elm tree and the oak. Norfolk leans to the former and York to the latter. Albert C. Huber of the News-Times has been campaigning vigorously for the planting of oaks along York's Lincoln Avenue, over the consistent replanting of elms there. And all the while he is coolly polite in his praise of what he terms "the most beautiful elm trees in the state" as one enters Norfolk over Highway 81 and "the leafy arms of majestic elms join together to form a canopy of green."

Norfolk News Editor Sterling McCaw has pointed out that the elms have replaced cottonwoods—and Mr. Huber agrees this to be an improvement. However, as far as elms are concerned, he rejoins, they are hollow inside, susceptible to every disease and worm and extremely vulnerable to Nebraska's drastic weather changes. To be sure, oaks do not develop luxuriant shade as quickly nor grow as rapidly, but "when you are digging out your dead elms, the oaks would only be coming into full strength."

Kearney also plunged into the defense of the elm, which grows abundantly in that fair city, but Mr. Huber takes on Hub Editor Ormond Hill, too. "It is time to build for the future," he declares. "An oak is a tree with a future."

Nebraska's elms—in fact, those throughout the entire Midwest—have taken a beating in recent years. Added to blight have been the ravages of the cankerworm, which apparently now has run its cycle but has left in its wake many dead trees.

For a shade tree, the fine American elm can't be beat. For a canvas for autumn's scarlets and vermilions, the oak assumes its proper place. But let us not overlook another fine Nebraska giant—the maple. A study specimen of this noble bark spreads towering and wide across our own backyard, boasting a circumference of near 15 feet and an honored age perhaps approaching the three-quarters-century mark. If, as Mr. Huber says, he believes city planners should desire beauty for their communities in the year 2,000, then let him also consider the maple.

Dealing With Nature

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Ft. Peck Dam, with its lake 130 miles long back of it, is largely a monument to the efforts of the late Gov. Arthur J. Weaver, was built and completed years ago. It has a capacity of more than 11 million acre-feet of storage on the upper Missouri.

Ft. Randall, another of the flood control dams on the upper Missouri, is 90 per cent complete. Its storage capacity is in excess of 21 million acre-feet. Garrison and Gavins Point, both well along toward completion, at the minimum will contribute another 12 million acre-feet of storage. Then there is Oahe, a massive structure, a key installation in the Pick-Sloan plan, providing enormous amounts of storage for both irrigation in South Dakota and for the generation of a huge amount of electricity, is 12 per cent complete. These dams, their storage reservoirs, their irrigation facilities, and finally, their power installations constitute the heart of the so-called Pick-Sloan plan. Gen. Pick may have tackled the flood problem at the wrong end but he knows more about it than some of his critics. He is an eminent engineer of established competency and bold vision. Glenn Sloan, now retired from the Bureau of Reclamation likewise is an eminent engineer. It was their labors and the labors of their staffs which developed the Pick-Sloan plan on the mainstem of the Missouri River.

Now in practical effect, Secretary McKay of the Interior Department, a politician, not an engineer, a former governor reputedly traditionally unfriendly to the public power program, says that a special committee in the Eisenhower cabinet will review national water policy in the program of development of natural resources. If Secretary McKay is against big dams with their enormous contribution to expanding irrigation and development of cheap power, let him say so. If back in his head he has the notion that federal policy giving public agencies preferential priority in the sale of electricity generated by these developments is bad, let him come out in the open instead of beating about the bush.

Nothing more subtle has been sprung upon an unsuspecting public in recent years than this attack upon some of the big installations on the chief rivers of this country. The work, it's said should be done on the small tributaries and at the headwaters, including countless small dams and other structures. The public may overlook it, but those small structures have yet to demonstrate:

- (1) That they will contribute in any sense to irrigation in the semi-arid states of the Missouri Basin.
- (2) That they in any sense will encourage the generation of cheap electricity to meet the mounting needs of the people of this region.
- (3) That they in any sense will make any substantial contribution to the alarmingly depleted underground water tables which need rebuilding not only here in the Missouri Basin but the country over.

A little over two years ago we traveled thousands of miles, listened to the testimony of hundreds of people, completed a record of testimony of more than 7,000 typewritten pages, and not once during that entire experience did we hear any considerable number of people suggest that the work on these main stem dams should be delayed, or that it should be stopped, or that the dams should be abandoned. We haven't the slightest notion what Gen. Lewis Pick intends to do in defense of that part of the flood control program to which he contributed much of his thought and his energies. But if he should make up his mind to let loose, it would not take him long to puncture a lot of the nonsense with reference to these key dams on the upper Missouri River.

This region will be the better when they are completed and fulfilling their functions.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Action of the House Committee on Agriculture under the leadership of Rep. Hope of neighboring Kansas in voting overwhelmingly for a farm program fixing price supports of basic farm commodities at 90 per cent of parity will prove a gratifying development in the eyes of farm people in these western states. The committee's action was not unexpected. But it does not mean the fight is over, or that Secretary Benson's guns have been spiked.

Ezra Taft Benson is a very determined man. Some call him a dedicated public servant; others have a different name for his plan of a sliding scale of price supports. Hardly had the ink dried on the pages of newspapers telling of the action of the committee before Mr. Benson was expressing his sharp disappointment — breathing defiance of the committee's action—and insisting that it was Congress which would make the final decision, which, of course, every school boy knows but which was simply Mr. Benson's way of serving notice that he was in the battle to the bitter end and would fight to sustain the position which he has maintained consistently. Mr. Benson sees only one phase of the farm program. It is this matter—admittedly disturbing—of mounting surpluses in some of the price-supported products. Amazingly, in his embattled crusade to center attention upon surplus to the exclusion of everything else, he may have contributed to the ancient quarrel between thickly populated industrial areas, interested primarily in cheaper food, and the people of rural America. That division had subsided in the common recognition that national welfare required that agriculture obtain a more equitable distribution of the national income.

Perhaps the most significant development within the committee itself was the fact that in the vote arising from a Democratic proposal to make the price support program at 90 per cent of parity permanent, only a single vote defeated that motion. Of course this present Congress could not bind the action of future Congresses, but the staunch support of a permanent program at 90 per cent of parity was a reflection of the hearings held by the committee in all sections of agricultural America.

One of the elements entering into the drift of prices of agricultural products towards a lower level could well be the uncertainties which Secretary Benson has injected into the farm picture. The program in force for more than 15 years did tend to stabilize the prices which the farmer could expect for six basic farm commodities. He knew that in connection with his production of wheat, corn, cotton and three other crops, there was a ceiling against any precipitous decline in the event that he himself complied with the requirements of the price support law. Overwhelmingly on every occasion that he had an opportunity to vote through referendum, he and his neighbors supported the present agricultural program. The result has been that in rural America since the mid-thirties, progress toward enriched rural life has been outstanding. Nor is that price support program covering a few crops the basic and sole factor determining the cost of food in the cities. Actually that portion of the final cost which goes into the pocket of the farmer is relatively small by comparison with other costs.

This is no sham battle that is in progress in Washington. In permanent effects it is one of the most important issues with which this administration will deal. And while the action of the House committee was decisive, there is the prospect that the administration will attempt to rally its forces on the floor, and in event of its failure there, turn to the Senate where a friendlier atmosphere towards the administration's position exists. The advantage is with the President and his secretary of agriculture. The President needs only to block extension of the price program in order to win. Automatically unless support at 90 per cent of parity is extended for a year longer, the sliding scale plan goes into effect at the close of this present year.

Personal Prejudice In Army-McCarthy Quiz

WASHINGTON—Human emotions, human prejudices play a part in any Senate hearing. But none more so than in the McCarthy-Army investigation. One reason: most Republicans on the committee were picked because they were pro-McCarthy. Another reason: the personal backgrounds of the Democratic senators.

Thus while Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, a Democrat may be prejudiced in favor of Secretary of the Army Stevens, a Republican, he is no more prejudiced than Senators Dirksen and Mundt, both Republicans, are against Stevens, for reasons that will become obvious if you examine the tangled skein of personalities and backgrounds on the McCarthy committee, as follows:

Senator Symington—It was natural for Secretary of the Army Stevens to appeal to Symington for advice for two reasons: 1, Symington has had bipartisan inclinations and is married to the daughter of the late Congressman Jim Wadsworth, a revered Republican; 2, Symington, a former secretary of the Air Force, understands Stevens' problems as secretary of the Army. . . . Symington's father-in-law, Jim Wadsworth, was defeated as senator from New York, but modestly went back to a humdrum job in the House of Representatives, where scores of Republicans had a soft spot for him and his family. Sen. Symington, once a Republican backer, paid for a band to welcome Tom Dewey in St. Louis in 1944; also has many high-up GOP friends.

Symington's support for Stevens and Eisenhower is chiefly based on his long experience in the executive branch of the government, where he served as head of War Surplus Property, as first secretary of the Air Force, as chairman of the National Security Resources Board, then chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. He was one of Truman's chief trouble shooters. . . . As Air Force Secretary, Symington got embroiled in the same sort of row that the secretary of the Army is embroiled in today. Certain Navy admirals, sore at the growth of air power, started vicious rumors that Symington had a personal, even a pecuniary, interest in building the giant B-36, designed to carry the bomb to Moscow.

Symington took off the gloves, appeared before congressional committees, fired back at Navy accusers, came off with flying colors. Secretary Stevens, knowing Symington's own experience with congressional investigators, naturally appealed to him.

Symington is mild-mannered and a slow starter. But he can be a tough fighter and doesn't scare easily. . . . McCarthy tried to scare him by sending word he would insist that the police record of every Senate committee member be put in the committee record—if Don Surine, who has an FBI record, were made to testify. . . . what McCarthy obviously was aiming at was the fact that Symington, when 17 years old, joined two others boys in driving off with a neighbor's car. The three boys were fined $25 each, and their names are still on the police record in connection with a federal offense, even though Harry Dorsey Watts, who owned the car, wrote Symington: "Your father, one of my closest friends, immediately got together with the parents of the other boys and paid me in full. The incident was only a prank." . . . The incident was used against Symington when he ran for the Senate in Missouri, but he was overwhelmingly elected anyway. Unlike some other senators who scare easily, Symington did not scare when McCarthy made this veiled threat.

Senator McClellan of Arkansas—Was not expected to be anti-McCarthy, but got his eyes opened when McCarthy retained as committee counsel J. B. Matthews, who charged that the Protestant clergy was infiltrated by Communists. . . . McClellan immediately heard from Baptist-Methodist Arkansas and led the Democratic bolt from the McCarthy committee. . . . there was no censorship of McCarthy's methods by Republicans at that time.

There is also a tragic chapter in McClellan's life which he doesn't like to think about, when, after the North African landings, he got a letter from his son that he had been quite ill, but the Army doctors didn't think anything was wrong. The boy added that he didn't want his father to do anything, because he felt a senator's son should not play favorites. . . . simultaneously with the letter came a telegram from the Army that the boy had died of spinal meningitis. So Sen. McClellan, who asked no favors from the Army, sees no reason why a private named Schine should be coddled and pampered.

Senators Dirksen and Mundt—Both have long been close friends of Joe McCarthy's. Mary Mundt, wife of the senator, is an intimate of the McCarthy clique and sees Joe or Jean several times a week. She is one of the McCarthy's closest friends, and Karl had had to step carefully as between his wife and the anti-McCarthy public which sometimes bombards him with telegrams. . . . Dirksen of Illinois, one of the ablest men in the Senate, has long been friendly with McCarthy, but didn't really get busy pulling Joe's chestnuts out of the fire until he got a signal from the Chicago Tribune's Col. McCormick. . . . Dirksen has been trying to call the hearings off, also deftly maneuvered against putting the monitored phone conversations in the record. . . . Dirksen and Mundt were eloquent persuaders at the brain-washing session at which the four Republican senators persuaded Secretary Stevens to back down from his no-generals-to-testify position. . . . coming from the traditionally isolationist Midwest, Dirksen and Mundt belong to the original pro-Taft, anti-Eisenhower wing of the GOP. Secretary Stevens, a New York-New Jerseyite, belongs to the internationalist, eastern wing of the party. Sometimes there is less love between them than with some Democrats.

Other Senate Members—Henry "Scoop" Jackson, Washington Democrat, was picked for the McCarthy committee because he had training as a district attorney. He is considered one of the up-and-coming youngsters in the Senate, but both he and Symington labor under the handicap of being freshmen. . . . Seniority rates high in the U. S. Senate. . . . Potter of Michigan, also a freshman, is possibly more pro-Republican than pro-Eisenhower. Perhaps because Potter lost both legs in the war, McCarthy has been careful not to tangle with him. . . . Dworshak of Idaho is an honest conservative who puts the Republican party ahead of Eisenhower. He is consistently loyal to the GOP majority. . . . all four Republican members seem to lean more toward their fellow senator from Wisconsin than toward the Eisenhower administration in their cross-examination.

AEC Head Asks Right To Lockout Majority

WASHINGTON—The hearings of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy are full of striking passages that show the anxious and fretful temper prevailing among those responsible for this most-secret activity of government. The palm, however, must be awarded Chairman Sterling Cole for insisting that a majority of the Atomic Energy Commission have the power to treat a minority of one or two of their colleagues as security risks.

The five members of the AEC are appointed by the President after a full security check. They are then confirmed by the Senate. The present group is at odds over the powers of their brilliant chairman, Admiral Lewis Strauss, and, as a result, commissioner Thomas E. Murray proposed the following amendment to new AEC legislation: "All members of the committee shall have equal authority and responsibility in pursuance of this act and shall have full access to all information relating to the performance of this authority and responsibility."

The Murray amendment is designed to offset language in the new act which designates the chairman as "the principal officer." Mr. Cole contends the phrase does not mean much, but he has been unwilling to drop it lest the omission be construed as a reflection on Admiral Strauss.

"I can subscribe to at least part of the suggestion you have made for insertion in this section of the act where you say that all the members of the commission shall have equal responsibility and authority," Cole told Murray. "But I am not quite so ready to accept the latter part of it because to do so would be to render helpless a committee majority which at some time in the future, by a majority vote, might determine that perhaps two members or perhaps a single individual member of the committee should not have information in a particular limited field.

"I can conceive that circumstances like that might arise. I prefer to leave it in the hands of a majority of the commission to determine the extent to which the members of the commission shall have such access."

Murray was incredulous. "Do you mean you can conceive of a situation of vital importance where information ought to be withheld from a member of the commission itself?" he asked bluntly. When Cole replied yes, Murray snorted his disagreement.

The exchange has not served to calm the fears of the three committee dissenters—Murray, Eugene Zuckert and Dr. Henry DeWolf Smyth—who already think they have been left out of some important decisions. All three are Truman appointees, but Mr. Zuckert is leaving June 30 and his successor will, of course, be an Eisenhower appointee.

Since the President has been angrily defensive of Admiral Strauss, presumably that successor will be a Strauss man. The newest commissioner, Joseph Campbell, a former associate of Eisenhower at Columbia University, is siding with Strauss in the present controversy.

Others whose tempers are aroused by such exchanges are the atomic scientists, who complain that already disagreement is being equated with security risk, with the commission taking the command, "enthusie," as its motto.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Two Wildlife Conservationists

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Two of the state's most interested wildlife conservationists reside at Fireman "Bud" Malcolms residence at 355 No. 32nd. They are Kay and Bing, two beautiful golden retrievers.

Statistics show that the average shooter picks up only 50 per cent of the game shot unless a hunting dog is a companion at the hunt.

Kay and Bing are both adept at finding crippled ducks and other game in marsh land which are almost impossible for the hunter himself to pick up.

And with an old "pro" hunter like Bud, who hunts year after year, the amount of game saved by the dogs would draw a cheer from the state game commission. For Malcolm uses his dogs to hunt in a group as well as alone.

Bud is a strong believer in the Nebraska Dog and Hunt Club of which he is a member.

In going out to the local club acreage "about every other day" to keep his dogs in practice retrieving, the owner of the golden retrievers says that "it gives me a chance to enjoy my dogs off season."

He thinks that a well-trained dog goes to make a much better dog.

A true hunting enthusiast, Bud keeps pigeons and retrieving dummies in his garage and has a collection of 25 to 30 ribbons won by the older dog, Kay, who is 11.

But Kay has developed breast cancer from two false labors which produced milk that damaged the breasts. She is slowing up and Bud says that Kay is going into retirement this coming season.

Bud places his confidence in one-year-old Bing now, and thinks the dog is one of the "most outstanding prospects" he has seen.

"Bing gets a little anxious and high strung," Malcolms says, "and sometimes breaks in a trial," but Malcolms hopes to develop the dog much further this year.

Malcolms has trained all of his dogs to hunt. From the time the dog is first taught to come and heel until it can be lead to a blind catch by a whistle, Bud works patiently and expertly.

As a result Bud's favorite hobby, hunting, is probably enriched by his two favorite hunting companions.

Gas Tax Figures

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In a recent publicity release, State Engineer Rens is quoted as follows: "State revenues have not kept pace with highway usage. . . . The gas tax in 1940 was five cents and last year was only six cents. . . . a 20 per cent increase in revenue against a 70 per cent increase in highway use."

The statement as to revenue is untrue. According to official records, the highway department's revenue from gas tax alone increased from $5,841,000 in 1940 to $14,526,000 in 1953.

That's an increase of 148 per cent.

And that is just what the highway department received.

For the state, including counties, municipalities and the highway department, the increase was 174 per cent. In 1940 the gasoline road tax produced $9,345,000 and in 1953, $25,638,000 net after refunds, etc.

Proposed Ordinance

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I hold no brief for the private garages or parking lots. If the new ordinance passes at the June election, the City Council will be empowered to condemn private property and move the citizens out of their homes to other residences at higher costs for the homes. The people who don't want their homes confiscated should make a concentrated drive against that ordinance, to be submitted for the approval of the voters.

B. S. KECK

The Parking Business

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I am writing in regard to the city's going into the parking business. I am against it and if all the facts were known, the rest of the city would be, too. If the city had the power to build a parking garage, it would be like the auditorium situation. It would take the city 15 years to build and in the meantime no one else would be doing anything about off-street parking.

Why doesn't the city build more swimming pools for its children instead of trying to ruin a private business that carries its share of the tax load?

CHARLES OWEN

Same Challenge

Blair, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It is interesting to note that Sen. Symington disqualifies himself from sitting on the subcommittee now listening to the Army-McCarthy wrangle for the reason that Mr. Symington is prejudiced in favor of the Army side. Why not issue the same challenge to all four Republican senators sitting on the committee for being obviously and unquestionably pro-McCarthy? They all seem to fear him except the three Democrats on the committee.

Another news note taken from the papers this past week—Mr. Crouch, former Communist now working in the U. S. Immigration Service, speaks of his reputation as being assassinated. How can this man continue to be given the publicity he gets, as well as the job he has, after having once been a Communist? In fact, how can any ex-Communist be taken back to our breast?

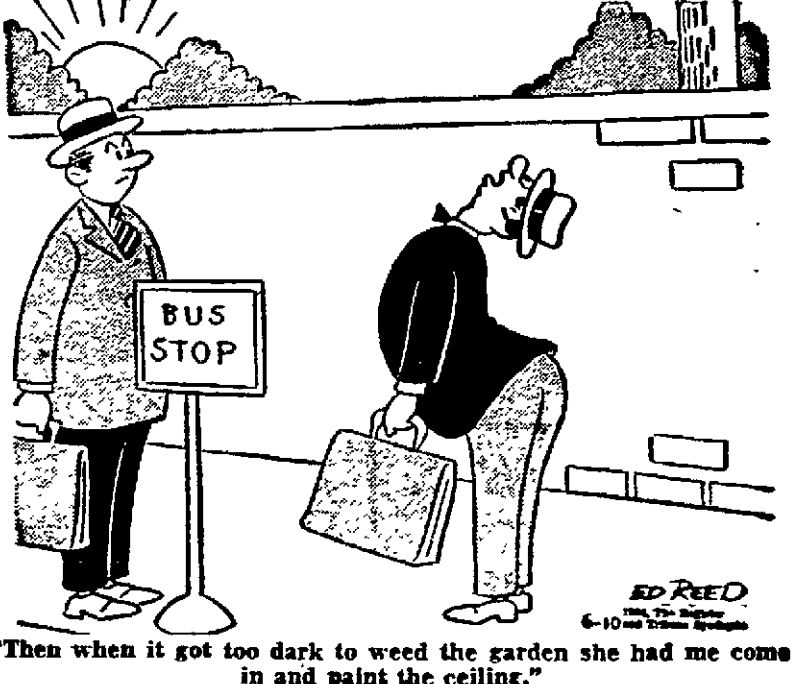

DEWEY NEMETZ

Decision On Fluorides

Holdrege, Neb.

Big Increase In Loup Basin Irrigation Forecast

... NU Engineer Makes Prediction

Increase in acreage of irrigated land in Loup Basin counties in the next ten years will be considerable, John Decker, district extension engineer of the University of Nebraska predicts.

In addition to the development of proposed canal systems, pump irrigation is only getting started at the present time. However, irrigation acreage from pumps over the state is rapidly approaching that of canal systems. On many farms pump irrigation is the only possible means of irrigation farming.

However, Decker warns, irrigation is not recommended on every farm in the Loup Basin area. Conditions of topography, soil type and water supply make pump irrigation impractical on many units. On the other hand, many farms more favorably situated in the inland valleys of the Loup Basin hills could readily justify pump irrigation installations. Whether or when irrigation is developed in those valleys depends entirely upon the occupants and land owners.

At the outset irrigation farming must be recognized as an intensive type of farming where greater inputs of production factors such as seed, water, fertilizer, machine, power and labor costs are expanded per acre Decker said. At the same time greater gross and net returns may be expected.

Many farmers are asking "Just where do we start with irrigation development?" Fortunately, irrigation farming is not foreign to farmers of the Loup Basin area, Decker comments. Canal systems have been in operation for years and the number of pump units is increasing each year. Perhaps visits with farm neighbors who are doing successful farming under irrigation should be the first step toward irrigation development, the engineer suggested.

From the standpoint of developing the individual farm for irrigation, an inventory of land and soil resources is a basic step.

NWU Class 'Children's Rate' 2.08

In the 10 years since the Class of 1944 was graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan University, its male members have acquired an average of 2.08 children, a study shows.

The national average for 1944 male college graduates is 1.70 children, according to the study.

The research is a project of the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C., which since 1946 has each year studied the fertility of college graduates in the United States. Alumni who graduated 10 and 25 years ago have been surveyed to measure current and completed fertility.

The current report also covers Union College and Hastings College in Nebraska.

3 Burned To Death In Washington Fire

MARYSVILLE, Wash., (INS)—Three persons were burned to death and four others were seared by flames Wednesday when fire destroyed the residence on the Journey's End Ranch, 2 miles east of Marysville.

Snohomish County Coroner Ken Baker identified the dead as:

Helen Johnson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Johnson, owners and operators of the ranch; Mrs. Helen Hill Johnson, 19, a daughter-in-law; and Terry Johnson, 3, a granddaughter.

Diller Group Told To Start Over On Redistricting Plan

A group of citizens from the Diller area was advised by State Supt. F. B. Decker, to start over on a school district reorganization plan which ran into opposition.

Eight Jefferson County districts and four from Gage County are involved in the proposed reorganization.

Diller, in need of a new school building, began agitation several months ago for formation of a new rural high school district.

Petitions were circulated, and then doubt arose when some signers asked to withdraw their names while other persons asked to be added.

About that time the Diller school building burned.

The danger lies in the possibility of a court ruling that could hold up rebuilding.

"We think if they would start all over again they could circulate petitions and have the matter settled in a month's time," Decker commented.

Liquor Agent Arrests Net $6,284 In Fines

The Liquor Control Commission reported $6,284 in fines collected as the result of arrests made by its agents in the six months ending May 31.

Of the 161 persons arrested, 118 were minors, 15 were procurers, 15 were bootleggers, and the others represented a variety of offenses.

Do You Need Storm Sewers in Your Neighborhood?

KEEP LINCOLN UP TO DATE WITH NO NEW TAXES NEEDED

Vote "Yes" on the City Charter Amendments Tuesday, June 15

HERE ARE THE NINE AMENDMENTS:

1. To authorize the issuance of bonds in an amount not to exceed $3,500,000 for the purposes of constructing additions to, extensions of and improvements or betterments of the storm sewer system of said city.
2. To authorize the issuance of Revenue Bonds for the purpose of acquiring and maintaining off-street parking lots, for the parking of motor vehicles, and other activities in connection therewith.
3. To authorize the fixing of rates of interest to be charged on assessments for special improvements.
4. To authorize expenditure involving less than $1,500.00, by the council, without advertising for bids.
5. To authorize the investment of idle funds of the city, which are not immediately needed.
6. To change date of the first meeting of the City Council to the second Monday after the election.
7. To authorize sale and conveyance of certain city property by the City Council.
8. To regulate planting and removal of trees, shrubbery, or other obstruction on corner lots or lands adjacent to two or more intersecting streets, which may result in the creation of a hazard to the safety of persons using said streets.
9. To authorize imprisonment of those convicted of violation of the ordinances as well as imposing a fine.

Approval of the storm sewer bond issue will make possible an immediate start on some 60 vitally-needed storm sewer projects plus two drainage projects on Antelope Creek and Dead Man's Run.

NOT ONE CENT OF ADDITIONAL TAX MONEY will be needed to pay for the bonds. Here's why:

The city already is levying approximately $200,000 a year for storm sewer work. Spent year by year on a patchwork basis, this sum is only a "drop in the bucket" as compared to the total need. Storm sewer NEEDS THAT EXIST RIGHT NOW could not be met in much less than 20 years.

However, the (approximately) $200,000 a year that is now being levied IS sufficient to pay off the principal and interest on the proposed bond issue. And that is the course the City Council plans to follow.

Thus, the city will buy its badly-needed storm sewer program on the "installment plan"—paying the installments with money that ALREADY IS BEING COLLECTED.

Approval of the charter amendments also will make possible a solution of Lincoln's parking problem. And, again, NOT ONE CENT OF ADDITIONAL TAX MONEY will be needed. The proposed revenue bonds, if issued, will be paid off from the revenues derived from the new parking facilities. No money from the general fund nor money derived from present on-street parking meters will be used to amortize the bonds.

Another amendment—authorizing the investment of idle funds—will MAKE MONEY for the city. Others will SAVE MONEY for the taxpayer. Some are merely corrective.

All of the amendments are worthy of approval. Study them carefully. Watch the newspapers for further information. Then be prepared to go to the polls and vote.

Slightly cooler and drier than normal.

Rather favorable for agricultural activities.

Costly storms.

That sums up the weather in the month of May, as reported Thursday by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

May was considerably drier than normal over the central third of the state to the north of the Platte River, and over the southwestern corner of the state and the southwestern corner of the Panhandle.

The dry period during the first half of the month favored corn planting.

Early corn came up to good stands, but wet weather hindered cultivation, and some was washed out by excessive rains.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

Bullfighting, said the barber in the Hotel Fenix, had gone to pieces in the past few years. The bulls were poor. The matadors lacked skill. The picadors cut the bull to ribbons instead of picking them properly.

Some of the toreros were using a plastic sword during the passes. They exchanged it for a steel sword just before the kill. The plastic sword was lighter.

"I am emotional about these things," said the barber dropping his razor. "I come from Seville. All Sevillanos are very emotional."

I didn't really need a barber. But what do you when all Madrid goes to sleep in the afternoon? The hours drag and a barber is a good way to kill time between 4 and 5 o'clock.

"Only the great Manolete has been produced in the past 25 years," said the emotional barber starting over my face. "Senior, you should have seen him. The graceful butterfly pass. The large cañabada de rodillas as the bull entered the ring. And what bulls! Like locomotives."

Bullfighting has become somewhat of a scandal in Spain recently.

In the first half of 1952, 18 ranches paid $6,000 in fines for sending undersized bulls into the ring.

Bulls were found with horns black in the normal manner. Shaving the horn down is exactly like cutting a fingernail too close. After the bull has bumped the tender tip a little, he is more cautious.

Osceola Student Wins Scholarship

Ronald D. Swanson of Osceola has been selected the first recipient of the newly established $500 Westinghouse Achievement Scholarship at the University of Nebraska.

Swanson, a junior in the College of Engineering and Architecture, was chosen for "high achievement in his academic work and demonstrated qualities of leadership." He was selected by the college's committee on awards.

The scholarship also carries with it an opportunity to work in the operating divisions of Westinghouse during the summer.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Swanson, he is specializing in mechanical engineering.

POSTCARD

end, his head hangs low enough for the matador to stab him with the sword in just the right place. "If today's matadors had their way, they would have spears like scythes," snorted the barber. "What they want in the spear is la bomba atomica."

The barber stood off and made a butterfly pass over my face with the towel.

"Yes, I go each Thursday and Sunday," he said. "Why? In hopes that some torero with a brave heart and steel nerves will appear before a bull of size and courage. I must go. I am a Sevillano and very emotional."

But the old days are gone, senior. The scandalous tricks. Small bulls. Matadors with their eye on a safe life and a fat purse. The padded horses. The plastic swords.

"Why, at the end of one day, they did not drag the bull out with mules as is the custom. Senior, they dragged him out with a 1953 Pontiac station wagon. I was so emotional I could not cut hair for two days."

Crash Kills Morrill Mother Of Five

CRUSHED AS CAR ROLLS INTO CREEK

LYMAN, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Leonard Herron, about 32, Morrill, Neb., mother of five children, was crushed to death when the car in which she was riding rolled end over end into Dry Creek three miles southeast of here.

The driver, Vince Snow, about 50, also of Morrill, was hospitalized in Scottsbluff with a crushed chest, facial cuts and possible internal injuries.

Authorities said the car approached Highway 86 from the west on a county road, went across the highway and landed in a creek on its top in about three feet of water.

Nebraska's highway toll now stands at 121 for the year compared with 95 at this date a year ago.

1,400 Merit Plan Petition Signatures Are Obtained Here

About 1,400 signatures have been obtained here in the petition drive to place the merit plan selection of judges on the ballot.

That was the report of Mrs. W. C. Whittaker, action chairman of the League of Women Voters The League and the Nebraska State Bar Association is sponsoring the drive.

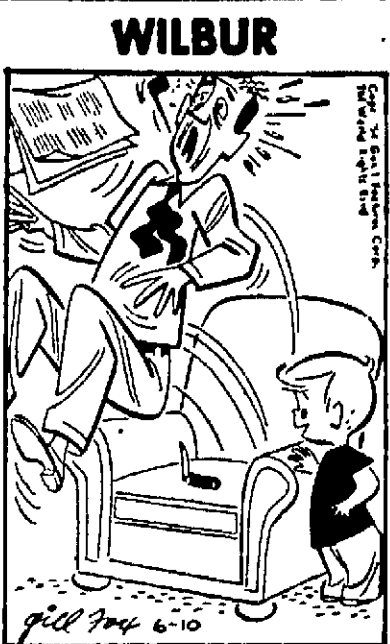

The Lincoln quota is 2,600 signatures, according to Mrs. Whittaker. July 1 is the deadline.

Under the merit plan, the governor selects the judges from a list submitted by a committee of lawyers and laymen. When the term expires, the judge, if he wishes to run for re-election, is unopposed.

The question is whether to retain the judge. If he is voted out, the governor makes another appointment from another list.

Bank Conference On Doane Campus Attracts 150

Workshop Sessions Featured

CRETE, Neb. (AP)—About 150 persons registered here Wednesday for the annual bank management conference.

The conference is sponsored by Doane College, the State Department of Banking and the Nebraska Bankers Assn.

George W. Taylor, North Platte, chairman of the bank management conference committee, opened the three-day meeting.

The workshop sessions will cover such things as procuring new industry for Nebraska, the livestock situation and "balancing the soil bank account," as well as more technical banking matters.

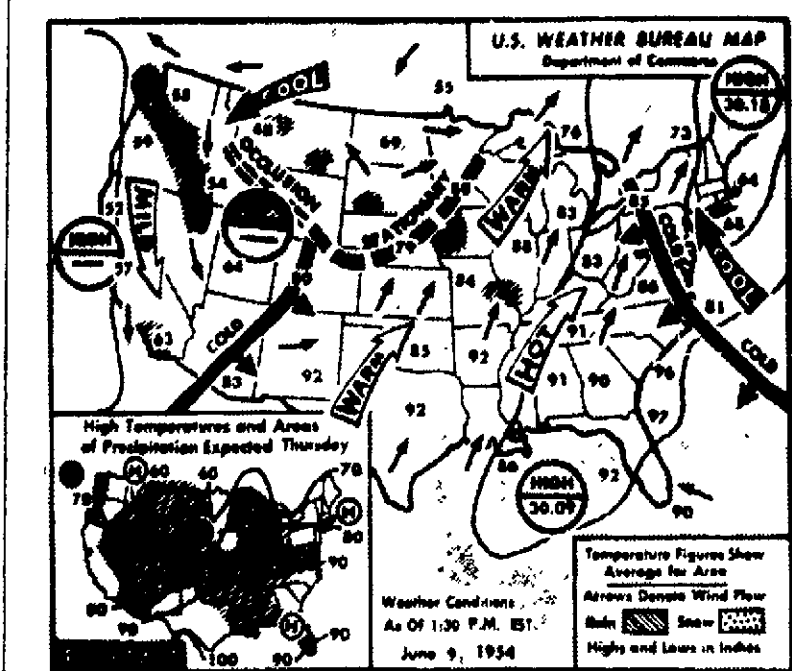

Speakers Wednesday included J. S. McLain, state banking director; Claude L. Stout, president of the Colorado Commercial and Savings Bank, Colorado Springs, Colo., and Stan Matzke, assistant manager of the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District, Hastings.

Another speaker was Nathan Gold, Lincoln, who spoke on the efforts to attract industry to the state.

Murray Shield of New York was a Wednesday night speaker. He is vice president and economist for the Bank of Manhattan Co., New York City.

RELAX IN COOL COMFORT

Hot, Cloudy And Thundershowers

It will be partly cloudy over major portion of U.S. Thursday with widely scattered showers and thundershowers affecting almost the entire nation with the exception of northeast and southwest states. Snow mixed with rain is forecast for extreme northwestern portion of Nevada in mountainous section of the state. A change to cooler is expected in the Rockies, northern Plains and Western Lakes region. It will become warmer in New England and continue warm in south Atlantic states. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Distribution Of Surplus Food Advocated By Demo Candidate

HOOPER, Neb. (AP)—Ernest M. Luther, Hooper farmer and feeder seeking the Democratic nomination for Third District Congressman, has written Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson recommending a program of surplus food distribution.

Luther said such a program will enable the United States to share its abundance with backward peoples rather than "sharing our sons on their battlefields."

In his letter, the Nebraskan compared the tremendous U. S. food supplies with a statement by George Mulgrew of the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization, that half the people of the world are hungry and more than two thirds are undernourished.

"Evil as Communism is in all its aspects, there are doubtless millions of people who think being saved from hunger is more important than being saved from Communism," Luther said. "Isn't it our Christian obligation to save them from both?"

"Shipping arms hasn't met the problem so far, so what harm is there in trying shipments of food? Children can use the food. They can't eat guns and bullets," he continued.

Whatever you need for the farm, it will pay you to check "The Farmer's Market Place." Classification 33 in the Want Ads.

Suit Dismissed Against Thayer Co. Commissioner

Lincoln Star Special

HEBRON, Neb. — District Judge Stanley Bartos Wednesday dismissed the suit filed by K. C. Nelson against Thayer County Commissioner Harry D. Bryan at the request of the plaintiff. The case was just ready to go to the jury.

The suit, when filed the first of the year, sought the ouster of Commissioner Bryan for alleged misuse of county equipment and inadequate use of county funds.

Wednesday Nelson, a Hebron resident, declared he "would like to see the friction in Hebron and Thayer County terminated." Nelson's attorney, Max B. Towle of Lincoln, presented the statement to the court requesting dismissal of the suit.

Bourret Seeks Governorship

KIMBALL, Neb. (AP)—James L. Bourret, Kimball hardware and gas dealer, and former vocational agriculture teacher, paid his filing fee Wednesday for the Republican nomination for governor.

Bourret said he was "tired of everyone in politics talking about doing things but getting nothing done."

This will be the first venture into politics for Bourret, who was born and reared on a ranch near Harrison.

Already in the GOP governorship race are A. D. Walker, Louis H. Hector, Victor E. Anderson and Frederick H. Wagener, all of Lincoln and Clarence R. Bristol of Ansley.

'Property Tax Too High

Bourret said he seeks in particular an equitable tax plan. The personal property tax is too high, now, he said. Bourret did not indicate whether he favors a sales or income tax, but indicated one or the other or both may come in time.

He also asserted that highway development is not keeping pace with the increase in traffic and school districts, particularly some of the smaller ones, are having

Curtis Proposes Red Willow Dam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Curtis (R-Neb.) proposed construction of Red Willow Dam and Reservoir in Nebraska by the Bureau of Reclamation as a unit of the Missouri River Basin project.

The small Republican River project, proposed for flood control and reclamation, has been authorized by Congress for construction by Army Engineers.

Curtis said the Reclamation Bureau already is working in the area on similar structures. A similar bill has been introduced by Sen. Butler (R-Neb.).

increasing difficulty keeping up with their expenses.

Bourret was graduated from the University of Wyoming and did graduate study at the University of Nebraska. He taught vocational agriculture at Hay Springs, Crawford and Mullen and for one year, 1950-51, was assistant supervisor of vocational education for the state. He also has farmed in the Hemingford vicinity.

Wisconsin Minister To Head New Lutheran Synod

5 Nebraskans Named To Posts

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A minister who once was a lawyer Wednesday became the guiding administrator of a new synod in the United Lutheran Church in America.

Dr. Clemens H. Zeidler, Appleton, Wis., was installed as president of the new central states synod which joined three middle-western synods with a membership of more than 80,000 members.

The synod's first president, elected for a five-year term, made a 650-mile drive during the night from Appleton to be here for the final session of the merger convention at which he accepted the pectoral cross, symbol of the president's office.

Presiding at the installation was Dr. Franklin C. Fry, New York, president of the United Lutheran Church in America. The merger of the three synods, the Midwest, Kansas and Nebraska, reduced to 32 the number of constituent synods of the church.

Fraternal Resolution

In the final business session, the delegates resolved a situation with regard to ministers joining fraternal organizations with religious rituals. The midwest synod had a provision that its ministers should not join such fraternal groups. The other two synods had no such restriction.

The delegates adopted an agreement leaving membership in such organizations "to the conscience and determination of the individual pastor."

The convention also adopted a budget of $402,128 for 1954 and $425,573 for 1955 and organized into five conferences.

Pen Inmate Claims Warden Punished Him Wrongly, Asks Contempt Action

Nebraska Penitentiary inmate Harry Dunn has asked the Lancaster District Court to cite Warden Herbert H. Hann for contempt of court, alleging "unreasonable, harsh and excessive punishment without legal justification."

District Judge Harry Spencer, allowing Dunn's petition to be filed in forma pauperis, ordered Hann "to show cause" on or before June 21 in the contempt action.

In his petition, Dunn alleges he was placed in "the prison hole" on Jan. 29 following an inmate-instigated fire in the prison laundry.

He alleges he was kept there until Feb. 1 when taken before the warden and despite denials of participation in the laundry fire was given "30 days in the hole on bread and water, indefinite in grade, and all good time (seven years and 11 months) taken away."

Dunn states in his petition that he "asked the warden for a lie detector test, but was refused." The warden "uses the lie detector to convict inmates of breaking prison rules," he alleges.

The inmate claims he "remained with an instructor (prison employee) all during the time" of the laundry fire.

"I did not have anything to do with the trouble in the laundry and did not set any of the fires and can prove it by state laundry employees if you (warden) will let me," Dunn alleges he told the warden.

Dunn asks for a trial "before a court of jurisdiction for the charge (arson) that I have been so severely punished" and that the warden be made to "show cause" why he should not be punished in a contempt action.

Dunn is serving a 25-year sentence for robbery given Nov. 17, 1951.

Two Band Leaders Are Defendants

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—The United States government, and nationally known band leaders Orrin Tucker and Dick Jurgens are among 63 known defendants named in a law suit filed here to clear the title on an oil and gas lease here.

The lease formerly was held by the Stephens Petroleum Co. It included about five oil wells on the Mrs. Ella Peck farm, which have been shut down for sometime.

The United States has filed a tax lien for a little less than a million dollars against all known Stephens holdings, including the oil leases held by the company in Richardson County.

Swan Will Seek Legislative Post

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—Norris V. Swan, Hastings businessman, announced Wednesday he would be a candidate for the state legislature from the 31st unicameral district, Adams and Kearney Counties.

He made the announcement after Richard Marvel of Hastings revealed he would not seek reelection.

Swan, 33, is married to the former Joan Titus (Holdrege). He has lived in Hastings since 1947. Prior to that he made his home at Kearney. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Swan of Kearney and is a partner with his father and brother, H. W. Swan, also of Kearney, in the Swan Furniture Company which operates stores in four Nebraska cities.

Swan was graduated from Kearney high school, attended Kearney State Teachers College and graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1942. He volunteered for service with the Army Medical Department in May 1942, and served until October, 1946. He has been in the active reserve of the Army since and now holds the rank of captain. He is a member of the American Legion, Forty and Eight, YMCA, Toastmasters Club, Rotary Club, the Presbyterian Church and is an apprentice Mason.

Railroads Recognized As Nebraska Centennial Car Is Dedicated

By B. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer

Recognition of the part railroads played in the development of Nebraska and the West was given Wednesday by James E. Lawrence, chairman of the Nebraska Territorial Commission.

Pointing out that while pioneers may be diligent, land fertile and climate favorable, it takes transportation facilities to open up a new territory effectively," Lawrence, editor of The Lincoln Star, spoke at a Lincoln Chamber of Commerce luncheon in honor of representatives of the five railroads operating in Nebraska which have co-operated in providing a special car and its coming statewide visitation in the interest of Nebraska's hundredth anniversary.

The car, filled with historical exhibits, was officially opened Wednesday morning at the Lincoln Burlington depot by Governor Robert Crosby in a ceremony attended by Centennial Commission members, railroad officials and Lincoln community leaders.

Interesting Exhibits

It remained open throughout the day while Lincoln residents viewed its interesting exhibits. It was scheduled for Beatrice Thursday in the beginning of an out-state tour throughout the summer. It will return to Lincoln in September to become a special exhibit in connection with the 1954 Nebraska State Fair.

Lawrence told upward of 100 who attended the noon luncheon that, "Much we have here in Nebraska today we can credit to the fact that in a remarkably short time there came into existence here in this region to the west of the Missouri a transportation system unequalled by any other in the world."

He said, "If there is a weakness today it is the tendency of so many of us to take things for granted. Today's miracle becomes tomorrow's commonplace."

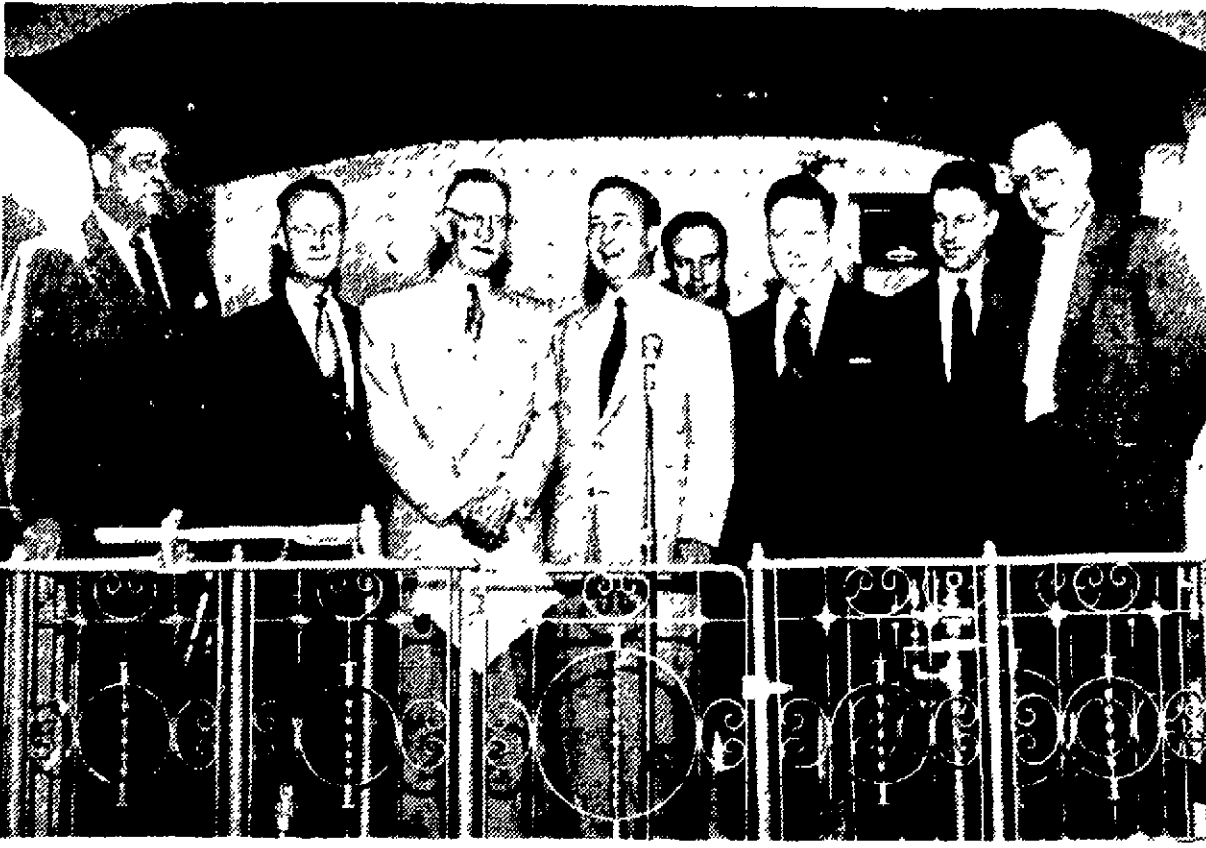

Lawrence said the representatives of Nebraska railroads have made it possible "for a little bit of old Nebraska to come to the doorsteps of thousands of Nebraskans."

Recalling that in 1857 a party traveling by ox team from Iowa into Nebraska required 40 days under favorable conditions to progress 300 miles, Lawrence said, "I do not know of any other incident that more vividly projects the great part played by the railroads in contributing to the success of the early settlements. They had an indispensable role then even as they have an indispensable role today."

Railroad officials attending the luncheon included E. P. Stine, Omaha, general manager of lines west for the Burlington railroad; R. J. Maxwell, St. Louis, Mo., publicity and advertising director of the Missouri Pacific; C. C. Shannon, Omaha, general superintendent of the Northwestern's Nebraska division; D. B. Jenks, Chicago, executive vice president, Rock Island Lines, and P. J. Lynch, Omaha, senior vice president of the Burlington railroad.

Other special guests included Mayor Clark Jeary, Lincoln, and members of the Nebraska Territorial Centennial Commission as follows: Mrs. Haven Smith, Chappell; J. Hyde Sweet, Nebraska City; Henry F. Brandt, Sr., Beatrice; Sen. Arthur Carmody, Trenton; Gus Fanner, Grand Island; E. N. Sweet, South Sioux City, and Harold Pritchard, Falls City.

John Curtiss, Chamber of Commerce president, presided.

Nebraska Centennial Car Opened

Filled with exhibits of Old Nebraska and ready for its summer long tour of Nebraska communities the Nebraska Territorial Centennial Commission's "Centennial Car" was officially opened to the public Thursday at the Lincoln Burlington station by Gov. Robert Crosby. Lincoln residents thronged the car during the day before it left for Beatrice for its first stop Thursday morning on its outstate swing. The car and transportation was provided by the five railroads operating in Nebraska whose official representatives joined in the opening ceremonies. Left to right, E. P. Stine, Omaha, general manager of the Burlington, R. J. Maxwell, St. Louis, director of Publicity and Advertising, Missouri Pacific, James Lawrence, editor The Lincoln Star, and president of the Nebraska State Historical Society; Gov. Crosby, Jas. Olson, secretary of the state historical society, P. J. Lynch, Omaha, senior vice president Union Pacific, D. B. Jenks, Chicago, executive vice president Rock Island Lines, C. C. Plans Autumn Wedding

MISS PHYLLIS WEEDEN

Announcement is made this morning of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Phyllis Weeden, daughter of Mrs. Paul E. Weeden and the late Mr. Weeden, and granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Johnson, to Alan Henriksen, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Henriksen.

The wedding will be an event of early September.

Brides At Church Ceremonies

SYNOVEC-BRUNKOW

At an early afternoon ceremony on Wednesday, June 9, Miss Shirley Ann Synovec, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Synovec of Tobias, became the bride of Richard W. Brunkow, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Brunkow, also of Tobias. Arrangements of peonies shading from white to deep pink, and lighted white candles, appointed the church of St. John's Evangelical Church at Western for the service, which was solemnized by the Rev. Walter F. Kieker.

The wedding music was played by Miss Lena L. Klein of Friend, pianist, who also accompanied Miss Shirley Pratt of Tobias as she sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attending her cousin as maid of honor was Miss Mary Synovec, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Lou Brunkow, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Don Hamouz, all of Lincoln. Costumed alike in gentian blue lace and net over taffeta, the attendants carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations. Wearing yellow net frocks were Miss Irene Synovec, sister of the bride, and Miss Karen Gutierrez, sister of the bridegroom, who lighted the candles.

White imported lace and nylon tulle over satin fashioned the bride's period gown. The strapless lace bodice was covered by a long-sleeved jacket of lace, buttoned snugly from the petal collar to the narrow waist, and the lace was repeated in the tapering peplum beneath which the tulle skirt was caught into fullness. A tiara of pearls and sequins held her illusion veil, and she carried a rounded bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Don Hamouz of Lincoln served Mr. Brunkow as best man and the ushers were Marvin Synovec of Roswell, N. M., cousin of the bride, and Paul Schnell of Lincoln, cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the church parlors after which a wedding dinner for the members of the family and bridal party was held at the home of the bride's parents. Following a wedding dance later in the evening, the couple left for a short trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Brunkow will reside at Milligan.

MRS. RICHARD BRUNKOW

MRS. J. E. BORNEMEIER

WILSON-BORNEMEIER

The marriage of Miss Lois Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wilson of Avoca, and Jerry E. Bornemeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bornemeier of Elmwood, was solemnized early Friday evening, June 4, at the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Elmwood. The lines of the candlelight service were read by the Rev. T. H. Kampman.

Preceding the ceremony, Howard Vogt sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," as the candles were lighted by Miss Karan Backemeyer and David Fleischman. Mr. Vogt was accompanied by Mrs. Alfred Bornemeier, organist.

Wearing identical frocks of orchid-toned net over taffeta fashioned in the ballerina mode were the matron of honor, Mrs. Richard Wilson of Weeping Water, and the bridesmaids, Miss Joan Backemeyer and Mrs. Vernon Bornemeier. Elmwood, Mrs. Charles James, Nebraska City, and Mrs. Harlan Keichhoff, Avoca. They carried nosegays of pastel blossoms, and wore head bandeaus to match their costumes. Miss Judy Baker and Miss Peggy Baker were the flower girls, and ringbearer was Wayne Alt-house.

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of white Chantilly-type lace and satin. A small pointed collar and long, fitted sleeves accented the lace basque, and the lace was repeated in wide panels to trim the circular skirt, which ended in a slight train. A heart-shaped brim of shirred tulle dotted with pearls and sequins held her illusion veil, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with a white orchid and showers of stephanotis.

Vernon Bornemeier of Elmwood served as best man, and the ushers were Ted Wilson, Avoca, Richard Wilson, Weeping Water, Dale Kunz and Fritz Brockhoff of Elmwood.

A reception for 250 guests was held in the church parlors, followed by a wedding dance at Weeping Water.

Mr. Bornemeier, who is a veteran of two years service with the armed forces including 16 months overseas duty, and his bride will make their home at Elmwood. A former student at Peru State Teachers College, the bride has been employed in Lincoln.

WE'VE BEEN trying to get the details of some very nice news that we would like to have passed on this morning, but since we have only a few of the facts at hand, we'll have to wait another day or two before telling it. We can tell you, however, that it has to do with two charming Lincoln people — and a wedding on Sunday.

BUT WE didn't sit with idle cars while attempting to complete the above story, and we learned numerous interesting things—such as—Lincoln is to have some new residents — Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones and their small son, Andrew — who are moving here from Omaha and whose Lincoln address will be 2218 Smith St.

Mrs. Jones, we learned attended Mt. Vernon School, Washington, D.C., and the University of Colorado where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. We also discovered that she is the former Fanny Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Shaw of Omaha, and that she is a member of the Omaha Junior League.

Mr. Jones attended the University of Illinois, where he is a member of Sigma Nu — Northwestern University, and was graduated from the University of Colorado.

AND more or less trading places with the Jones family are the Kenneth Ludlows — Mr. and Mrs., and their two daughters, Kathy and Lynn—who are moving to Omaha. Mr. Ludlow and Mr. Jones, strangely enough, are associated with the same paper company.

THAT brings us to a farewell courtesy for Mrs. Ludlow for which Mrs. John Boltorf will be hostess on Friday when she entertains at luncheon at Hillcrest Club. A guest eight-some has been invited for the luncheon and an afternoon of bridge.

LINCOLN friends of the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Gosnell and their family, have received invitations to the wedding of Miss Judith Gosnell and Lt.

James Milton Cavender, III, which will be solemnized on Saturday evening, June 26, at St. Mark's Church, Episcopal, San Antonio, Tex. The Rev. Gosnell, former rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal, in Lincoln, is rector of St. Mark's.

SOMEONE told us that Major and Mrs. Charles D. House, their two daughters, Holly and Candy, and their small son, Johnny, left Lincoln Wednesday morning on the first lap of their journey to Thailand after a visit with Mrs. House's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Williams. Major and Mrs. House and their family planed from Lincoln to San Francisco where they will re-enplane for Thailand where Major House is to be military adviser to the Siamese Air Force.

APROPOS of new assignments — Lt. Col. and Mrs. Jack Price, with their son, Jon, have just returned to the States — and Lincoln — after three years in Japan where Col. Price served on the General Staff of the Headquarters Far East Command in Tokyo.

While in Lincoln the Price threesome will be the guests of Mrs. Price's mother, Mrs. G. Anton, and Col. Price's mother, Mrs. J. C. Price, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Reller.

Col. and Mrs. Price and their son will go from Lincoln to Washington D.C. where Col. Price has been assigned to the Pentagon.

WE'RE practically out of breath attempting to keep up with the parade of courtesies for Miss Shirley Siddle whose marriage to Thomas Bowman of Denver will take place on Saturday, June 19.

Today Miss Siddle will be honored when Mrs. John Unthank entertains a small group of guests at luncheon at her home, and on Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walt and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens will entertain informally at supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walt, complimenting the soon-to-be bride.

Former Coed Is Bride

MRS. RICHARD J. MANGELSEN

White and pink gladioli in pedestal arrangements, and lighted white candles, appointed the church of St. Mary's Cathedral at Grand Island for the marriage of Miss Patricia Keister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don D. Keister, and Richard J. Mangelsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Mangelsen, all of Grand Island, which took place Tuesday afternoon, June 8. The 3 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Father Flynn.

Miss Marilyn Keister of Grand Island, who was her sister's maid of honor, appeared in a walk-length frock of pale pink net, and wearing similar ensembles of pale blue net trimmed with narrow velvet ribbons were the bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Keister of Grand Island, and Miss Joan Holden of San Antonio, Tex. The attendants completed their costumes with wreaths of silver leaves, and carried nosegays of pink roses and violets frilled with pink malines.

Serving Mr. Mangelsen as best man was Richard Rasmussen of Grand Island, and seating the guests were Jerry Miller, Grand Island, and Greg Eklund of Osceola.

The bride's gown of ice blue imported lace and nylon tulle was worn over satin in matching tone. Long fitted sleeves and a bateau neckline accented the molded lace bodice, and the dance-length skirt of lace was veiled by an overskirt of the tulle which tapered to the hemline at the back. A bandeau of orange blossoms held her veil of blue illusion, and she carried a prayer book showered with pink roses and stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Mangelsen will reside at Trinidad, Colo., where the bridegroom, a former student at the University of Nebraska and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, is attending Trinidad Junior College. Mrs. Mangelsen has attended Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., and the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

NFWC Board To Meet

Mrs. Fred H. Barmore of Lexington, president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, has called a meeting of the state organization's board of directors to be held in Lincoln on Monday, June 14.

The meeting, which will be held at the Hotel Cornhusker, will begin at 10 o'clock, Monday morning, and will continue through the day.

At the recent national convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, held at Denver, Colo., Mrs. Barmore represented the Nebraska clubs and spoke on their projects and activities of the last two years. Mrs. Barmore also presented the Nebraska clubs' contribution of $1,239.41 for the restoration of Independence Hall in Philadelphia, Pa., a national club project toward which $201,425.70 has been raised.

Other Nebraska clubwomen participating in the convention program were Mrs. W. H. Hasebrook of West Point, national music chairman, who directed convention singing, and Mrs. William Huxford of Grand Island, who was a panel member on the activities of junior clubs.

A report on Nebraska juniors, who received second place award for work in extension, was given by Mrs. Otwin Schleuter of Pender, and attending the luncheon for past state presidents was Mrs. Oscar Warp of Minden.

The convention accepted the invitation extended by Mrs. Barmore to hold the federation's upper Mississippi conference at Omaha next year.

Wedding In August

MISS BARBARA HERSHBERGER

This morning Mrs. Helen Hershberger of Seward is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Barbara, to Richard E. Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bush of McCook.

The wedding is planned for August.

Miss Hershberger is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, and of Pi Lambda Theta.

Mr. Bush, recently discharged from army service, will return to the University of Nebraska to complete his studies. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta.

The Brides' Book Says:

This morning Miss Lois Tyrrell of Waverly, whose marriage to William H. Fahleson will be solemnized on Sunday evening, June 13, is announcing the members of her bridal party.

Miss Tyrrell will have her sister, Mrs. Wayne Johnson, as her matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Gwen Malone and Mrs. Fred Loder, Cheryl Johnson, niece of the bride-elect, and Judy Johnson, niece of the bridegroom.

groom, will be the flower girls, and the bride-to-be's nephew, Lonnie Johnson, will carry the ring.

Kenneth Stickney will serve Mr. Fahleson as best man, and the ushers will be the bride-elect's brothers, Roger and Richard Tyrrell. Miss Rosilyn Fahleson and Miss Marilyn Fahleson, sisters of the bridegroom, will light the candles.

Last Saturday afternoon Miss Tyrrell was honored when Mrs. Aaron Johnson,

Miss Alice Longinaker, who will become the bride of Richard Totten at a 4 o'clock ceremony at Christ Methodist Church on Sunday, June 20, has chosen Miss Vonda Botcher as her maid of honor.

Miss Sharon Smith will be the bridesmaid and the bridesmatron is Mrs. E. J. O'Brien, Dallas, Tex.

Charles Malloy, Detroit, Mich., will serve Mr. Totten as best man and the ushers are John Lightie, Robert Miller, Rodney Thomas, and E. J. O'Brien, Dallas, Tex. The flower girls are Sara Costello and Susan Costello, Randolph Ia. Lighting the candles will be David Longinaker, brother of the bride elect, and Garry Mowrey.

Install New Officers

The newly-elected officers of the YWCA were formally installed Tuesday evening following the regular dinner-meeting of the group at the YWCA.

Miss Myrna Cottom conducted the installation assisted by Miss Elizabeth Eick, Miss Thelma Ullstrom and Mrs. Paul Burkland.

recording secretary; Mrs. Carrie Rische, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Chris Pohlenz, second vice president; and Mrs. Howard Helms, treasurer.

Ballot Propositions:

OK To Set Maximum Interest Rate Of 6 Per Cent Is Sought

(Editor's Note: Here are the sixth and seventh articles in a series by Star City Hall Reporter Bill Dobler, explaining for Lincoln voters the nine propositions which will be on the ballot in the June 15 election. Clip and save these articles to help in deciding how to vote on the propositions.)

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Voters at the June 15 election will be called upon to take a stand on an issue that has been under fire and discussed at the City Hall for many years.

This issue, one of nine charter amendments to be on the ballot, concerns the interest rate charged by the city on the unpaid balance of special improvement district assessments such as paving, sewer, water and ornamental lights.

As the charter now reads, those unpaid balances bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent if payments are made on time and 9 per cent if payments become delinquent. The proposed charter amendment would cut the 9 per cent to 7 and make the 6 per cent maximum.

Wording Of Proposed Amendment

"In addition to all existing charter provision, and notwithstanding any charter provision to the contrary, in making the levy for special assessments for street and alley paving, repaving, resurfacing, grading, improvement, graveling, sewer, water, ornamental lighting and all other improvement districts, the cost of which is to be paid for from special assessments against the property benefited, the City Council shall fix the interest charge at the time of making the said levy at a rate not to exceed 6 per cent per annum, payable annually, on unpaid installments which are not delinquent. Installments delinquent shall bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum after the delinquent date."

erty owners then actually pay off if it saw fit to do so. The demand for lower rates stems from the fact that the city pays interest at the rate of about 1.5 per cent on bonds it issues to pay off the contractors who construct the improvements. Property owners then actually pay off those bond issues so the argument has been advanced that there should be no difference in the bond rate and the property owner's rate.

Equal Rates

While there are certain book-keeping and other expenses involved in keeping the special assessment accounts which would prohibit equal interest rates, Mayor Clark Jeary has expressed confidence that the present 6 per cent rate to property owners could be cut.

I all bonds and other outstanding obligations were paid off now, Jeary said, the special improvement district fund into which payments by property owners are deposited would have a surplus of about $200,000. This means, he said, that the 6 per cent now being charged is producing somewhat more than is actually needed to meet expenses.

If the voters approve the amendment, Jeary said, each special improvement district will have its interest rate fixed according to the prevailing circumstances. It is impossible to say at this time, Jeary stated, exactly what the interest rate would be in any given case.

Jeary noted that the current law results in inequities in some instances. When builders include the cost of specials in the price of a home, Jeary said, the home buyer pays for those specials over the years at the same rate of interest as his mortgage bears.

Thus, he said, some person might be paying 4 or 5 per cent interest on special improvement balances while others paying them directly are charged 6 per cent. Some system of tying the special improvement interest rates in with home mortgage rates might be worked out by the city, the mayor said.

There has been little opposition to this proposal. Some dissatisfaction has been expressed over the uncertainty of the rate.

that might be charged and the fact that rates could be different in different improvement districts.

The thought has also been expressed that approval of this proposition might lead to lethargy on the part of the city in setting up the earlier talked about revolving fund for special improvement districts.

This was a fund the city considered establishing by issuing bonds in advance in anticipation of work to be done during the year. With money on hand to pay out as work was done, the city would not have to issue the warrants it now uses to pay contractors until the end of the year when bonds are issued to pay off the warrants.

These warrants bear interest at 2.5 per cent and this cost would be saved were a revolving fund established. Mayor Clark Jeary has stated that there was not time to work this system out for presentation at the June 15 election.

Doubts have also been expressed over the city's ability to cut the current 6 per cent rate on specials under the present system, despite the claim by Jeary that the special assessment district fund has a substantial surplus.

Those persons who favor the proposed change to cut delinquent payment interest rates and to allow the Council to fix the rate on non-delinquent payments should vote for the charter amendment. Those persons opposed to such a change should vote against the amendment.

Brief Honeymoon

DETROIT (AP)—The honeymoon of Otto Schreiner, 49, and his bride, Roberta, 33, was short lived. They were married Monday in Bowling Green, Ohio. Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Great placed them on probation for six months for disturbing the peace. Argument at a bar.

Investment Of Idle Funds Proposed

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Election proposals to increase taxes are not unusual but a chance to vote a cut in taxes and keep the same service is not often found.

This chance, however, will be presented to voters at the special June 15 election, in the form of a change in the city charter permitting the city to invest idle tax funds. If approved, city officials have calculated that minimum of $5,000 a year could be realized from such investments, thus saving that amount to be absorbed otherwise by tax payers.

For the 12 month period from April 1, 1953 to March 31, 1954, the city had an average monthly general fund balance of $892,621. Invested through the year with a 1 per cent return, such an average would net the city nearly $9,000 profit.

Short Term
Balances, however, fluctuate according to tax collections and other receipts and expenditures so investments would necessarily have to be in short term debentures. This fluctuation and the uncertain period of investment makes it impossible to say exactly how much could be earned.

Wording Of Proposed Amendment

"The City Council shall have the power and authority to invest and reinvest all idle funds, including but not limited to current tax receipts, for such period of time as such funds are not immediately needed, in evidences of indebtedness of the United States government, agencies thereof, the city of Lincoln, Nebraska, and the school district in the city of Lincoln in the county of Lancaster in the state of Nebraska."

in this manner in any one year period.

The balances are accumulated in two ways and do not represent a slush fund in any sense. First of all, tax receipts cannot be geared to expenditures.

Receipts may come in heavy during a part of the year when expenditures are light and vice versa. And many receipts other than taxes vary according to the time of year.

Secondly, the city operates on a 90 per cent appropriation basis. That is, the mill levy is set to produce a certain amount of money while only 90 per cent of that amount is actually appropriated for spending during the year.

That is a safeguard placed in the charter years ago to assure the city of being on a cash basis all the time.

In recent years, however, collections have always gone over 90 per cent of the levy. Thus, if 96 per cent of the tax levy is collected, there is 6 per cent that has not been appropriated and remains unspent as a balance to be used in fixing the next year's budget.

Higher Fees

Thirdly, the city has always been conservative in estimating miscellaneous receipts for the year. Fees charged for various services and licenses, parking meter receipts and other forms of incidental income have consistently been higher for the year than estimated in the beginning for budget making purposes.

To assure sound investment of those balances, the proposed charter amendment permits only the purchase of United States government securities and evidences of indebtedness of the city of Lincoln and the Lincoln school district.

Those persons who favor the change to permit the investment of idle city funds should vote for the proposed charter amendment. Those persons opposed to such a change should vote against the amendment.

W. A. Dunbar Dies; Former Teacher At NU Ag College

W. A. Dunbar, 66, 4930 Cleveland, a Lincoln resident since 1937, died Wednesday.

He had been a teacher at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture for several years and was associated with the Farm Security Administration.

Born in West Virginia, he was graduated from Maryville, Mo., in 1910 and taught at Galt and DeKalb, Mo.

He was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1917, taught at Scottsbluff for several years and was superintendent of schools at Gresham 13 years.

Mr. Dunbar was a member of Masonic Lodge 197 at Gresham. Surviving are his wife, Geneva; a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Brockman of Lincoln; a son, Paul A. of Leavenworth, Kan.; four grandchildren and a brother, Thomas L. of Montreal, Canada.

Another son, Lt. Walter A. Dunbar, was killed in action in July, 1944.

Omaha Pair Pleads Guilty To Larceny

Two Omaha men were being held pending investigation by George Meyers, county probation officer, after both pleaded guilty to charges of petty larceny in Lancaster County Court.

The men are Jerome Lee Myers, 20, and Eugene Leslie Wilson, 25.

They were picked up late Monday night by Safety Patrol Lt. J. E. Kruger after a complaint their pair had driven away from the 4500 Service Stop without paying for gas. Authorities said that when Kruger stopped the pair, he found in their possession several radios, razors, and cameras the two later admitted they stole from Lincoln drugstores.

Myers and Wilson were charged with theft of a $29.50 radio from Hoffman's Drug Store at 1240 South St. Thefts also were reported at Cheaper Drug at 1325 O, Allen Drug at 14th and South, and Wagey's Drug at 17th and Washington.

Lt. Kruger said the pair admitted the thefts, telling him one would steal the merchandise while the other distracted the attention of the clerks.

The county attorney's office said there is a possibility the pair may have been involved in other thefts, which are being investigated. The reported value of the stolen items Monday was estimated at between $70 and $80.

Clifford Appleman was attendant at the Service station when the two drove off after getting the gas.

CHIEFS RAP COLORADO SPRINGS TWICE

Andy Bush Gets 10th Victory In Lightcap; Andy Anderson Stars In 9-6 Opener

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Colonel Anderson P. Bush of the Kentucky Jackrabbit Regiment, sub, and his sharp-shooting musket men Wednesday night removed the spring from Colorado Springs.

In short, the Lincoln Chiefs swept a doubleheader from the Sky Sox, 9-6 and 8-0, in full view of 1,895 delighted Sherman Field patrons, thus making a clear sweep of the series.

After the Chiefs ousted the Sox in a slippish seven-inning opener that lasted 2:14, Colonel Bush cleaned up the picture with a trim five-hit shutout in the nightcap.

Skipper Whitey Wietelmann's Chiefs, now riding a three-game win streak, are within a game and a half of Denver. To close this gap, Whitey will toss Tom Keating's (1-1) against Omaha tonight in a Ladies' Night game at Sherman Field at 8. Here for a four-game series, the fourth-place Cardinals will toss either Mel Heim (3-1) or Bob Clear (6-3) against Keating.

"Omaha and Des Moines are breathing down our necks," commented Wietelmann. "This is one of our most important series."

Along with a 20-hit salute of Lincoln musketry, the Wednesday night headline was etched in the ageless Colonel Bush. When the long evening had subsided, the Colonel's campaign ribbons included:

- (1) First Western League pitcher to win 10 games.
- (2) Winner of nine straight games and undefeated since Sioux City gave him his only setback, 5-4, April 23.

(3) Producer of 19 straight scoreless innings.

Andy's usual pin-point control found a deputy in Jack Rabbit ears once again. This time, Andy tore down the three sets he had placed on the Chiefs' dressing room door a week ago. He went hunting during the afternoon and shot himself another array of good luck ears.

"We'll need 'em against Omaha," said Colonel Bush.

The Chiefs amassed a five-run lead in the first two innings of the opener, only to see the Sky Sox tie up the game in the fourth.

Undaunted, Lincoln added three clingers in the sixth.

Andy Anderson's towering homer with two mates aboard provided three runs in the first. The Chiefs added two in the second on two walks, three Sky Sox errors and a sacrifice.

Cobrado Springs pounced on starter Noel (The First) Oquendo for a pair of runs in the third on a walk, a single by Bill Ley and Joe's Kirrene's hearty triple to right.

Oquendo, whose arm was sore, was removed for Charley Griffith, who walked the bases loaded, yielded a double and cost the Chiefs three runs in the fourth.

In the nick of time, Fireman Roger Wright arrived in the fourth to quench the blaze, but only after allowing Manager Eddie Stewart to double home two runs.

"Except for giving up a run in the seventh, Wright held the whip hand as he coasted home the winner.

Hancock, mingled pleasantly with three Sky Sox errors.

Bush allowed only one Sox to reach third, Boyce adventuring that far on a walk and two Lincoln errors in the fourth.

Wigwam notes... General Bill Herring expects to sign a new shortstop today. Anderson picked up $50 for his home run—courtesy of an insurance firm. Bush has now pitched 10 complete games, failing only once to go the route.

It was 12 degrees colder at Sherman Field than in downtown Lincoln. Omaha has not appeared here since the season opener in mid-April. Since then, the Cards have added 14 new players.

First Swingfest Tournament Winners Receive Trophies

Rod Smith of South Sioux City and Lee Chapin of Lincoln receive championship trophies and a congratulatory smile from Walter White, Lincoln Country Club president, after winning LCC's first golf Swingfest Wednesday. The three-day affair ended Wednesday with a final 18-hole round, a dinner-dance and the presentation of awards. (Star Photo.)

Optimists Win 4th; Beatrice Here Today

Lincoln Star Special

TECUMSEH—Dick Welch, a 14-year-old pitcher making his first start, pitched the Lincoln Optimists to a 6-1 win over Tecumseh Legion team here Wednesday, allowing only one hit after the first inning.

The Optimists play Beatrice, a league opponent, at Sherman Field today. Game time is 5:30 p. m.

Welch was replaced by Bill Bergstrasser to give the latter a workout, but the young moundman fanned nine and held Tecumseh in check during his stint on the hill. The only Tecumseh run came in the first on a hit by Bob McCoy, an error, a passed ball and Virgil Wright's single.

Lincoln got one run in the first and put the game on ice in the third with another.

Chapin, Smith Win Lincoln Country Club Swingfest Title

Lee Chapin and guest Rod Smith of South Sioux City Wednesday won the Lincoln Country Club's first Swingfest, winning with a 36-hole handicapped total of 115.

Chapin had a 30-28-58 on the last day and Smith a 28-29-57. Second to Chapin and Smith was the Lincoln Country Club team of Joe Spangler and Dr. Bob Stein.

Harry Galloway of Red Oak, Ia., and Don Pegler Jr. followed with a 121.

Giants Sign Paul Giel At $50,000

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Paul Giel, two-time University of Minnesota All-America more known for his broken field touchdown runs than for his strikeouts, Wednesday signed a seven-year contract with the New York baseball Giants for an estimated $50,000.

Club President Horace Stoneham and Farm Director Carl Hubbell, the old screwball ace, flew here to sign the 21-year-old right-handed fastball pitcher.

The fleet-footed, 5-11, 185 pound athlete has been the target of big league baseball and football scouts as well as Canadian football bird-dogs ever since his sensational sophomore year.

As a matter of fact, the tailback said the other offers that made his eyes "blink" were combined baseball-football bids from Winnipeg and Toronto. He said six or seven other major league baseball clubs had made serious offers, the best by the Chicago White Sox.

George Halas of the Chicago Bears of the National Football League offered to meet any Canadian proposition but, he too, lost out when the three-time All-Big Ten back cast his lot with baseball.

Paul donned the Giants' uniform Wednesday night for photographs when the New Yorkers met Milwaukee. Then he returned to Minneapolis to take a final scholastic examination. Saturday he will rejoin the Giants in Chicago.

Baseball scouts who have been watching him in every one of his starting appearances this year agreed he has a big league fastball, adequate control and a good curve.

This baseball record with Minnesota is 18.8. In his sophomore year he won five conference games and posted a remarkable earned run average of .42.

The Firing Line

by NORRIS ANDERSON
SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

Oh to be a graduating All-American with $50,000 in your jeans—Old Sea Chanty.

Take Paul Giel, the Minnesota wonder boy of football and baseball.

By Saturday, when he graduates, Paul could have chosen between four possible careers, all smelling like big money:

- (1) Sign to play professional baseball. (The Chicago Giants had an early edge since Minneapolis is on their farm clubs.)
- (2) Give up pro athletics and enter private business. (The magic Giel name had Minnesota business houses offering him executive jobs that would start in five figures yearly.)
- (3) Sign to play in the Canadian Football League with either Winnipeg or Toronto. (The bidding was the highest ever registered in the Canadian loop.)
- (4) Sign to play with the Chicago Bears of the National Football League. (The Bears own him in the player draft and offered to meet any baseball offer.)

Giel, as you see elsewhere in the Star sports section, was given 30-gard to sign with the Giants. Owner Horace Stoneham and Manager Leo Durocher were personally on hand to doll out the cash and get down the young pitcher's signature. Uncle Sam was hovering in the background to get his cut, too.

Who said the future looks dark for graduating seniors?

By now, everyone has noted what the return of Willie Mays has done to the New York Giants, a team that was 35 games off the National League pace last summer.

Umpy Leo's Giants are rated by Skipper "Walt" Alston of Brooklyn as "the team to beat." Willie's big bat, cannon arm and miraculous fielding have given the Polo Grounds crew new confidence.

Pitchers have such confidence in Willie's fielding that they are tossing with no worries. This type of confidence causes pitching at its best.

Thinking of Willie, we got to thinking about the Lincoln Chiefs. What single player gives

Filing For City Tennis Meet To Close Friday

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

The Lincoln City Tennis Championships, open to all players, will start Saturday morning on the public courts at 38th and South.

Matches will be held this week end and June 19-20. Classes are for seniors, juniors and boys and girls under 15.

Applicants must file by Friday night with Roy Colson, the University of Nebraska tennis squad member who is in charge of the courts this summer.

The 1954 Championships could be the best in recent years. In Jim Porter, defending men's singles champion and the annual favorite, the tournament has a performer who sets the competition at a fast pace.

He also won the doubles last summer with Fr. Stanley Siegienski of Milligan.

Porter is attending graduate school at the University of Kansas but will be here for the tournament.

If he is stopped this time it may be achieved by a new Lincoln player, Maj. Charles Hanner of the Air Force Base and recently of the University of Florida.

Hanner brings to Lincoln an experience earned in fast college and amateur competition in Florida, one of the top tennis playgrounds of the country.

While stationed in Puerto Rico he and a partner won the Antilles doubles title in service play. He was runnerup in singles.

Hanner and Colson will team in the city doubles.

Neil Unterseher, state champion in juniors and boys competition, will be back to defend his title in the same classes here.

The junior class includes all boys 15 to 18.

Other winners from last summer are Karen Rauch, junior girls; Rauch and Jim Kiely, junior mixed doubles; Unterseher and Jack Clark, junior boys' doubles; Carol French, women's singles; Porter and Emily Schossberger, senior mixed doubles; and Schossberger and Lelia Bailey, women's doubles.

A special division is set for

Champ 'Ready Now'

GROSSINGER, N. Y. — "I'm ready to go right now," said Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano Wednesday as he boxed another four rounds.

The champion, who plans to spar only three more times before his title defense against Edward Charles June 17, said "I feel real good. I wish the fight was tonight so I could get it over with and get back to the family."

Rocky went two rounds each with Willie Wilson and Toxie Hall. He has boxed 174 rounds since April 2. He'll box today, rest Friday, and wind up his boxing on Saturday and Sunday.

Manager Al Weill said the champion weighed 188, about three pounds over his fighting weight.

veterans, players 40 and over. The tournament is sponsored by the Lincoln Tennis Club, a group which uses the South Street courts for its play. The club is open to all and its president is Mrs. G. F. Unterseher.

NCCA Meet Interest High

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — With Russia indicating it will field its strongest team in history for the 1956 Olympic Games, there is unusually deep interest in the NCCA track meet at the University of Michigan Friday and Saturday.

Despite the fact the Olympics are two years away, Don Canham, Michigan's track coach, estimates that "50 to 75 per cent" of America's track might for the 1956 games will be on display in the two-day NCCA meet.

"The Olympic committee will be closely watching this meet," Canham said. "There will be more athletes competing than in any of the previous NCCA meets."

Michigan, hosting the games for the first time, said the final entry list shows 375 individual entries from 52 schools. Fifty-nine schools competed last year when the meet was held at the University of Nebraska.

Defending Champion Southern California, presenting a balanced squad of a half dozen seniors, seven juniors and seven sophomores, is a strong favorite to win the team title for the sixth straight year.

Canham predicts that Illinois, Stanford and California should give the Trojans their most trouble.

"With a break or two," he said, "I think Illinois could slip in and take the title."

At any rate, the Olympic committee will be watching all teams, in hopes of finding hidden strength to meet Russia's challenge. Among those representing the Olympic committee will be Matty Bell, athletic director at SMU; Reaves Peters, commissioner of the Big Seven Conference; Ivan Giger, athletic director at MIT, and Glenn Jacoby, athletic director at Wyoming.

There is a possibility that several meet records—and perhaps a world record—will be broken in this 33rd annual meet.

Dancer Scratched

ASCOT, England — Alfred Vanderbilt's Native Dancer was scratched Wednesday from the King George and Queen Elizabeth Stakes at Royal Ascot July 17. No reason was given, but Native Dancer was taken out of training recently due to a foot bruise.

Although no definite plans had been made to send Native Dancer to England, Vanderbilt had given much thought to having the grey 4-year-old star compete in the mile and one half event.

Tennis Club Hopefuls

Ruth Benzing is a teacher of Lincoln's young tennis player hopefuls. She stands (second row, far left) with her pupils on the South Street courts for a moment during practice for the city championships starting Saturday. The boys are Bob Hewes (left) and Dave Wohlfarth. (Next to

Ralph Kohler Defends Title In Trapshoot

More than 200 shooters from Nebraska neighboring states are expected to compete in the seventy-sixth State Trapshoot Thursday through Sunday at Doniphan.

They will be firing in a program calling for 800 targets. Pries will include more than 90 trophies. Sponsor of the event is the Nebraska State Sportsman's Association and the Central Nebraska Gun Club is the host organization.

Ralph Kohler of Tekamah, long a prominent figure in national trapshooting circles, heads the list of entries.

Kohler last year won the all-around and high over-all titles. N. S. (Bud) June of Scottsbluff, who was second in the nation in the five thousand targets and over class, is among the contenders.

Others include Ed Morehead, Falls City, defending singles champion; Gordon Still, Kearney; Wayne Kennedy, Kimball who will be gunning for his third consecutive doubles title; Dr. Jack Cady, Arlington; Floyd Daily, Fremont; Ray Scheer, Arlington; and Dayton Dorn, Big Springs. Daily, Scheer and Dorn are former champions.

Defending his junior title will be Bill Nelson of Brady. He was runner-up in the state singles last year and won the clay target junior championship at the Grand American last August.

A directors shoot will open the firing Thursday followed by the open championships and open handicap Friday. The singles and class championships are slated for Saturday and the doubles and handicap titles will be decided Sunday.

Alliance Site For Monthly Meeting

ALLIANCE (P) — The State Fish and Game Commission will hold its monthly meeting at Chadron State Park June 18-19, Floyd Stone of Alliance, commission member said.

While in Western Nebraska commission members may inspect some of the suggested sites for the department's district headquarters. Gering, Scottsbluff and Alliance have invited the commission to consider their localities for a possible headquarters.

Commission Secretary Paul Gilbert is expected to visit all the sites June 14 and report his findings to the commission.

Senate-House Unit OKs Compromise In AEC Fight

... All Members To Have Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee tentatively agreed on a compromise solution for a bitter fight within the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC).

Under the plan all five (AEC) members would have equal authority in decisions but the chairman would be AEC spokesman, and executive officer in administering the multi-billion dollar agency.

Three of the five AEC commissioners and several committee members strongly opposed an original proposal to name Chairman Lewis L. Strauss as the commission's "principal officer." Reps. Price (D-Ill) and Holtz (D-Calif) said it would lead to "one-man rule" of the AEC.

The committee, in a closed door session, agreed on a substitute section of an omnibus atomic energy bill, which Price said he and Holtz now favor the section, subject to a later vote within the committee, provides:

One Vote

1. That "each member of the commission, including the chairman, shall have equal responsibility and authority in all decisions and actions of the commission and shall have one vote." This is stronger than the present law.

2. That the chairman or acting chairman "shall be the official spokesman of the commission in its relations with the Congress, government agencies, persons or the public," and, as agent of the commission, shall carry out policies, reporting to the commission periodically "or as the commission may direct." This would be an addition to present law.

Price said the new proposal, written by committee staff experts, had not been submitted before to the AEC commissioners.

But he expressed belief it would satisfy both sides of the 3-2 split within the AEC over the "principal officer" proposal.

Equal Authority

Commissioners Henry D. Smyth, Eugene M. Zuckert and Thomas E. Murray had testified that the AEC could work best with all commissioners having equal authority. They opposed any move that they said might disrupt this balance.

Chairman Strauss and Commissioner Joseph Campbell, the two Eisenhower appointees on the group, said the chairman needs some special designation and some centralized administrative authority.

Price said the compromise proposal would "not increase the authority of the chairman. It merely spells out a delineation of his duties" as now understood but not specified in law, he said.

He added this gives Strauss "the normal functions of the chairman of any other government agency."

Simultaneously, he said, the proposal "puts down more specifically the equal authority of the commissioners."

Swiss National Meets Swiss Native

John S. Frey (left), the 59-year-old Swiss national who is walking across the United States shakes hands with Werner Lehmann, a long-time Lincoln resident who was born in Switzerland and has visited there many times. Looking on is Frey's uncle, Jerry Frey of 2223 B. The fast-stepping Swiss is staying with his uncle writing up his notes of the trip this far. Monday he leaves on the second half of the journey, which he hopes will see him in San Francisco by mid-October. (Star Photo.)

Identity Of Shattered Body On Train, Track Unknown

Washington County Sheriff William McDowell of Colorado is checking the remains of a man whose body was scattered along the right of way of the Burlington line just west of Nebraska's border.

The investigation started when the right forearm of the man was found on the undercarriage of a flatcar that had just arrived at the Lincoln humping yards. Yard men there found along with the forearm parts of a scalp and blood and hair clinging to the under carriage of four or five cars.

According to George Lang,

CB&Q special agent in the Lincoln office, parts of the man's body were found along a half mile of the railroad's right of way just east of the Colorado Experimental Station near Plattner, Colo.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp said the man's fingerprints would be checked with the FBI in Washington if identification is not made from the remains found in Colorado. Officials theorized the man may have been trying to go from one railroad car to another when he could have slipped and been caught under the wheels.

The flat car where the man's arm was found was loaded with jet engines. It had been loaded at San Bernardino, Calif., and was headed for Duluth, Minn. Its last major stop before coming to Lincoln was Denver.

According to Jacob Dietz, chief train inspector in Lincoln, the accident must have taken place around 1:30 a.m. Lincoln time. This would be the time, Dietz said, when the train would have been crossing the border from Colorado into Nebraska. The right arm and other unrecognizable remains of the man were discovered in Lincoln at 4:30 a.m. when the train was being broken up at the humping yards.

Michal Re-Elected KC Grand Knight

Leon V. Michal has been re-elected grand knight of Fitzgerald Council 833, Knights of Columbus.

Other officers re-elected are Robert Rustermier, deputy grand knight; Paul Gaughan, treasurer; Wallace Erickson, recording secretary; Fred J. Cassidy, chancellor; Clarence Schweitzer, warden; and R. J. O'Brien, outside guard.

New officers are Emory Burnett, advocate; Tom Porto, inside guard; and George Banker, trustee.

Sunday the council will make a pilgrimage by chartered bus to Boys' Town and St. Columban in Bellevue. The group will leave at 8 a.m.

recommended there be no inquest. Coroner Frank Stanley agreed with this but has made no official pronouncement. State Attorney Gunter Stephenson says he is continuing to investigate.

Woman Companion Quizzed

Stephenson questioned Mrs. Jessie Stanley, Donnelly's woman companion, but declined to comment on what he learned from her.

Donnelly and Willard Durden were arrested on charges of conspiring to kill for profit K. H. Gerlach, 61, and Mrs. Byrd T. Roach, 51, both of Lake Wales, and Mrs. Louise Clark Hawley, also of 25, of Orlando.

The two accused men were released on bond.

Sheriff Pat Gordon said Donnelly and Durden obtained services of a trigger man who in turn became an informant for investigators in the suspected murder plot.

Investigating officials said Donnelly's alleged motive was an opportunity to profit by his position as confidential attorney for the two intended victims, although details have not been disclosed.

Donnelly's Position

Donnelly's body was at the edge of a road near his lakeside cottage five miles from here. He was wearing underwear shorts and bedroom slippers.

Here were Donnelly's positions, as explained by officials with his three clients:

1. Gerlach—Donnelly at one time had full charge of his affairs, but Gerlach changed attorneys sometime ago when sheriff Gordon told him his life was threatened. Among Donnelly's papers were two notes totaling $32,000 made payable to Donnelly on Gerlach's death. Gerlach acknowledged his true relationship with Donnelly but

How To Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Reds Falling Far Short Of Hitler's Success In Wooing East German Youth, Boerner Says

NEW YORK (INS) — An American expert on postwar Germany says that East German Communists are spending millions of dollars to woo that nation's youth but are falling far short of the success Hitler achieved a generation ago with his "Jugend" Boerner, director of public affairs for U.S. High Commissioner James B. Conant, got a first hand picture of the wooing last Sunday when he attended a gigantic, carnival-like youth rally in Red East Berlin.

Boerner and his wife, the former Eleanor Deming of Lincoln, returned to the United States after a nine-year tour of duty in Germany. They plan to be in Lincoln this month.

The smiling Nebraskan said the young East Germans showed no great enthusiasm for Communism, "no fanaticism such as marked Hitler's young people."

(His remarks coincided with a report from France that French Communists have started an all-out drive to win young people to the party. The French Reds revealed during a five-day conference that only 11 per cent of their members are under 25 years of age.)

Boerner said it was easy for him and another American from the State Department to "talk" their way into a reviewing stand where they watched part of an eight-hour parade of 500,000 youths between the ages of 14 and 17.

Getting out of East Berlin was another matter, but Boerner said that was when he learned that the youngsters "didn't really mean" all the anti-American things their placards and slogans said.

The American car he was driving was stopped every couple of minutes as Red police and guards funneled anyone attempting to leave the sector to special checkpoints set up to keep the holidaying youngsters out of free West Berlin.

At every stop, Boerner noted, kids crowded admiringly around the automobile, took snapshots and gave friendly greetings to the Americans they had been castigating only a short time before.

The spontaneous reaction of the young East Germans to the Americans rubbed some of the gloss off the carefully prepared Communist propaganda, but, in all, Boerner felt the youth rally had to be considered a success for the Reds.

"Even if it was only an organizational success," he said, "you can't discount the fact that the Communists attracted scores of thousands of young people to Berlin and got them to parade under their banners."

"There was no fanaticism. No one complained when we didn't applaud at the appointed places or rise from our seats when everyone else did. These kids were attracted by a super-carnival, but they did as they were told—and that's a danger."

Boerner said the youth rally brochure listed 62 pages of athletic events, dances, shows and other entertainment.

Speaking of the youngsters' older brothers and sisters and parents, the American diplomat said the East German Communists are apparently winning few converts.

Nevertheless, he added, the party itself is stronger than it was six months ago, and better entrenched than it was last June 17 when thousands of East Germans rose up in a revolt that was crushed with tanks and Russian soldiers.

Boerner said the Communists have been playing it "soft and clever" since the revolt—much stronger security measures are in effect but the standard of living has improved some.

Even so, he concluded, the East German people can be counted upon to make continued efforts to throw off their yoke of Communism and Russian domination.

Dr. Moore To Retire From Cornell Post

Dr. Clyde B. Moore, a former Nebraskan, will retire from active teaching July 1 according to word received from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

However as professor emeritus of education, Dr. Moore will keep busy writing books, heading the Ithaca board of education, lecturing and working in educational organizations.

A native of Albion and a 1912 graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University, he worked as a public school teacher, principal and superintendent in Nebraska before becoming a college professor.

Dr. Moore, who has served for 25 years as president of the Ithaca board of education, was the recipient of the 1950 Alfred E. Smith Award presented by the New York State Teachers Association.

State President
He has been president of the New York State School Boards Association and now represents the National School Boards Association on a 21-member National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education. He has served on many state committees including the New York state committee for the Mid-Century White House Conference and was chairman of the New York Section on Education.

Dr. Moore has been chairman of the New York Educational Conference Board since it began in 1936. He now has 25 books to his credit, many of them texts for persons from grade school through graduate school.

Dr. and Mrs. Moore, the former Leila Mary Admire of Oakdale, Neb., have one daughter, Mrs. Milo J. Peterson who lives in St. Paul, Minn.

Mrs. Hanna Files For Lt. Governor Post

Mrs. Arabella P. Hanna, Superior, filed Wednesday for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

She signed her filing papers "A. P. Hanna" explaining that that is the name under which she conducts her business.

Mrs. Hanna is chairman of the state school reorganization committee and has been state federation of women's clubs president.

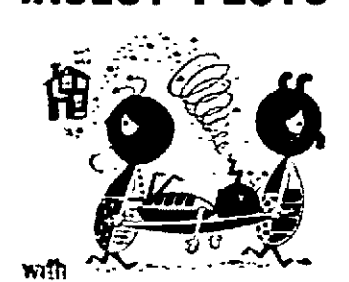

She will oppose Lt. Gov. Charles Warner of Waverly who seeks re-election.

In a statement, Mrs. Hanna said:

"There is a need and place for qualified women in government. It is fitting that more women become a vital part of government."

In other states many more women take part in government than in Nebraska, Mrs. Hanna said.
